

New Officers Of Sciots Installed Thursday Night

200 ATTRACTED TO CEREMONIES IN K. OF P. HALL

It was estimated that more than 200 persons were present last night at the open installation of new officers of the Santa Ana pyramid, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, held in the Knights of Pythias hall. The tapers of the Long Beach pyramid, and a number of his members.

Installation was conducted by the retiring tapers of the local pyramid, William J. Dean, with Alvin Nowotny as master of ceremonies. Members of the Lybian monies, wearing their elaborate uniforms, assisted in the floor work, and increasing the brilliancy of the scene, were the quantities of flowers used to decorate the lodge room.

Dean as retiring tapers was presented with the pyramid's usual gift of a life membership, together with the tapers' jewel, and a handsomely engraved life membership card in a suitable leather case.

Following the installation was an entertainment arranged by Walter Wright, past tapers, presenting Hal Lieberman and his group of radio musicians, including Bill Sharpless and his "KTM Gang." The remainder of the evening was given over to dancing with music furnished by the Will Howell orchestra, and at cards. The next entertainment scheduled for the Sciots and their friends will be the dance on Thursday night, October 23.

Officers installed last night were: Elmer Smith, tapers; William R. Sylvester, Mobili; J. E. Walker, Armes; Ora Jennings, Past-Master; C. E. Carlson, scribe; H. G. Lyman, chancellor; A. F. Nowotny, trustee, one year; J. O. Smith, trustee, two years; J. G. Sutherland, trustee, three years; Sylvester, William Dean, Mr. Roberts, Smith and Walter Wright, members of board of control; C. E. Carlson and Wright, delegates; Ora Jennings and Dean, alternates.

George H. Sullivan, Mazat; Charles P. Mattern, Chief-of-Me; Okey Jemison, assistant Chief-of-Me; H. J. Gillingham, Klatschar; Leroy Roehm, Neokori; Ed Morse, proclamer; J. M. Mosley, marshal; K. R. Coulson, chief musician; Wallace Kaufman, captain of guard; R. O. Grover, drum major; Doug Peddy, standard bearer; George Shippe, granary keeper; Wayne Jacob, Mohar; Frank Watson, trumpeter; Diana Crawford, stage manager; N. E. Mayhill, publicity; A. H. Gritton, Walter Wright and Mayhill, auditors; Owen Murray, H. G. Gardner and Charles E. Mitchell, grievance committee; Smith, Sylvester, Walker, Jennings and Carlson, sick committee.

WINNERS IN BIRD COLORING CONTEST ANNOUNCED TODAY

Master George Bryant Jr., the winner of the first prize, just got in the contest this morning, as we were almost through judging. His picture was brought in and went to first place. Alice Horn-don has second, Ralph Barnes, third, and Eileen Lord fourth in the contest for those between the ages of nine and twelve. They are all good but when we put George's picture across the desk and looked at it from a little distance as we did the others, it compared most favorably with the colored plate.

The red of the bird was hard to get. Somehow the red in the picture from the National Association of Audubon Societies, which is the standard, isn't like any other red. Most of the contestants recognized this and made commendable efforts to achieve that very distinguishing color.

Although Mary Grant sent in the nicest picture of those between the ages of six and nine, Mary Lorraine Bolyard, of Tustin, and Abbie Jean Dixon sent in such good pictures that it was very difficult to decide. Mary Grant and Abbie Jean are both from the Jefferson school. Master Eugene Faber, who won the prize last week, also sent in a very good picture.

The picture this week is of the Red-headed woodpecker. There are four of them in the picture. Two are busy pecking at a tree. The lovely colored plates are already in the window of the juvenile department of the public library, in the window of Watkins' Bookery, on Sycamore and Fourth streets, and in the front window of the Santa Ana Register. Be sure to cut out the picture for coloring in tomorrow night's paper because we probably will not have room to print it a second time this week, as we did last.

BRAZILIAN REBELS CLAIMING PENETRATION IN TWO STATES AND PARTIAL COAST CONTROL

"We have captured several federal airplanes in Recife and Natal."

A message from Bello Horizonte, in Minas Geraes, said that two federal aviators, Lieut. Clovis and Travasso, had brought airplanes there to be incorporated into the revolutionary forces.

It was said here that the federal government had sent ships to Montevideo and Buenos Aires to bring food to Rio de Janeiro.

The rebels established contact with federal naval units today in an effort to win them over to the revolt.

Getulio Vargas, defeated candidate for president in the last election, who is leading the revolt in the south, said that federal aviators who had fled to Rio de Janeiro to Minas Geraes had telegraphed him offering to join the revolt.

Vargas issued a manifesto to the people of the state of Parana, declaring that the victory of the revolution was certain and imminent. He congratulated Parana on the fact that its citizens were the first to invade the state of Sao Paulo.

Revolutionists stated that response of volunteers was so rapid in Rio Grande do Sul that they closed the conscription lists when more men had volunteered than could be used.

It was claimed here that 2000 men were starting north daily. A cavalry column of 1000 men under Baptista Luzardo started for Sao Paulo to join other troop concentrations on the frontier.

The harbor of Rio Grande do Sul was mined today after revolutionists had sunk 22 boats in the harbor and destroyed numerous piers to prevent federal warships from approaching the city.

Artillery was brought into position to protect the city. It was reported here that federal destroyers sent to bombard Porto Alegre had joined the revolt.

GIVESTALK AT W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

forgot political parties and worked to the one great end.

"Now the wet forces are saying, 'It doesn't matter what political party a man may support, find out if he is wet or dry and then vote for him.'"

"Never has it been so difficult for a voter to select a man for whom he shall vote, but remember—there is only the wet and dry issue in this campaign."

"In the process by which the great reform was effectuated, men and women of all political parties voted for the men they wanted in power and differing on the dry question, thus concentrating their power."

Last year the wets acknowledged that they spent $500,000 in their campaign. If they acknowledged that they spent this amount, what did they really spend?

"A prominent international lawyer recently advised clients to disregard the 18th amendment. This educated man who didn't want to give up his personal liberty to get drunk would declare independence to that law, but the hobo who breaks another law must be brought to trial for his delinquency."

"It behooves dry forces to ask this question, 'Are we going to permit ourselves to be divided into Republicans, Socialists, Democrats or anything else, and lose the election?' This policy was demonstrated in the primaries. People must not be blinded to the real facts. There must be unity of action regardless of party affiliations."

"I always have been personally and politically for prohibition. In the last Democratic election at Houston when Al Smith was nominated in spite of the dry democrats, it became a great problem to me. I was a southern Democrat, born and brought up in the South, in a country where it was a disgrace to be a Republican. But I went to my home state, North Carolina, and campaigned for Hoover."

"I practice what I preach, place principle above party. In North Carolina in the present campaign, the state went democratic by 73,000 with 63,000 for Hoover. My own brother declined to hear me or to meet me. When I spoke in a town where my cousin lived, my cousin did not invite me to his home."

"When an individual problem is weighed, a jury is chosen to weigh it with discretion and national interests are at stake, the problem should be weighed with the same discretion that a jury exercises. We ought not to be tied to the apron strings of a political boss."

"The price of decent politics is eternal vigilance. If we are to meet the present crisis it is because there are women whom grafters fear. When women began to fight the liquor traffic, praying on the street corners, the liquor interests laughed, as they said 'These poor women can do nothing.'"

"But these women have gone on teaching the effect of alcohol on the body, taking their part in bringing about the 18th amendment."

"Never will the opposing forces be able to obtain the consent of 13 states for the repeal of the 18th amendment. Mystical 13! The original states were 13 and they shall say to the liquor forces, 'You shall not pass.'"

"I have sworn vengeance on the liquor traffic which has invaded every home and every nation of the world. We must teach the rising generation who never have seen the saloon, the evil of the old saloon days. We must carry the message to every corner of the nation."

"You women have much to do in an educational campaign for a whole generation which doesn't know saloons. There are those who say things are no better than in the old days. I have lived in California for the past 35 years and I say, the transformation is remarkable—those who do not see it, either lie or are woefully blind."

"I have had time only to present the highlights of the situation. It has come to a time in American politics when it takes a magnifying glass to find the microscopic difference between a Democrat and a Republican."

"It is impossible to take the 18th amendment out of the constitution, although wet forces propose to nullify it. What they propose to do is impossible, but they plan to get the people to believe that the law is unenforceable and to pave the way for its nullification."

THIEVES IN RAID ON CHICKEN PENS

Sixty chickens owned by Mrs. L. Dunn, who resides at the intersection of the Newhope road and West Seventeenth street, were reported stolen from her pens some time early last night, according to a report on file with Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

The wire netting around the pens was cut and the thieves took the chickens into an orange grove nearby, where they sacked them before carting them away, according to an investigation made by deputy sheriffs.

According to the investigation, the thieves were the same who robbed the pens of W. H. Christenson, Wednesday night. Christenson lives at Garden Grove and reported that 18 chickens were stolen from him.

W. C. T. U. BACKS PRESIDENT IN MESSAGE TODAY

A telegram was sent to President Hoover this morning by the delegates to the 48th convention of the W. C. T. U. of Southern California. In session here, the message expressed encouragement, loyalty and support of the organization.

Yesterday, an invitation was extended by the Long Beach delegation to the organization to hold its annual convention in that city in 1931. The invitation was given by Mrs. Edith Pearce Cocks, of Long Beach, who represented the Long Beach, Bellflower, Compton, San Pedro and Torrance unions. The invitation was accepted.

Greetings were received this morning from the national president, Dr. Ellis Boole, who urged members of the organization to be on the lookout for false propaganda spread by newspapers and speakers.

A message was received from Anna Gordon, national president, who invited delegates to attend the World's W. C. T. U. convention at Toronto June 3-10.

Awards made this morning included a gold star to the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. for having held the most medal contests, the second award going to San Diego and the third to La Verne. A silver cup was presented to the San Diego county union for having held the most contests per member during the year.

Yesterday, Dr. M. Lum Hutchins, candidate for state secretary of state, made a talk late in the afternoon. Several meetings have been held during the convention in furthering Dr. Hutchins' campaign.

Mrs. Wheeler asked delegates to endorse Dr. Hutchins as a candidate for secretary of state and Frank Merriam as lieutenant governor. These candidates were endorsed by the state organization during the primary campaign.

During the departmental exhibits sentiment was expressed against the R. O. T. C. maintained in many high schools. Departmental work also showed the danger of patent medicines and a report was given revealing the fact that 35,000 children had taken part in essay contests instituted by the scientific temperance movement.

Exhibits exhibited by the Highland high school pupils were called to the attention of the audience as being examples of finely executed art work done in the schools along temperance lines.

Delegates to the national convention were elected this morning to the national convention to be held at Houston, Tex., next month. The delegation is as follows: Dr. Nora McNeil, Mesdames Elizabeth Warren, Laura McClintock, Blanche Kimmell, Louise Williams, Alberta Andrews, Ray Adams, Laura Bolen, E. E. Miller, Mrs. Carrie Wren, Zora Austin, R. McMary, Pelman Hodson, Lilly Galloway, R. W. Jones, M. Scridner, Zorra Glassey, Max McGuen, May Cline, Ruth Alder, Jennie MacVey, Lilly Richardson, Minnie Smith, Anna Ranch, G. Bugge, Cora Milhouse, E. L. Miller, Mary Collins, Minnie Zinser, Mary Ruckell, J. D. La. Varr, M. Hadley, L. Cate, Mary Elefuss, Carrie Clymes and Robert Hale.

By a new plan, an announcement was made that women who go to the convention by train may receive reduced railroad fare. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Allie S. Wheeler for her work as convention director of music.

At last night's session readings were given by Bessie George Webb, who read "The Man of the Hour," a playlet dealing with politics and praised by Theodore Roosevelt as the best play he had ever seen. The Mustel trio of Santa Ana furnished classical musical numbers and Miss Ruth H. Zody of Long Beach, gave whistling solos.

An announcement was made that Sunday, November 2, will be observed throughout the nation as "Christian Citizenship Day," where in the nation is to be much in prayer and pastors everywhere are to preach on Christian citizenship.

TWO MEXICANS IN JAIL AFTER STANTON FIGHT

Two Mexicans were in the county jail today, one charged with assault with a deadly weapon and the other with assault and battery, following a fight at Stanton over a woman, last night, sheriff's officers said.

Paul Cruz, 24, is charged with using a knife in his fight with Dolores Mendez, 24. Mendez was severely cut about the head with a beet topper, officers reported.

Cruz was arranged before Justice Morrison this morning and his bail was set for $3000, which he did not make. He will be given a preliminary examination on October 14 at 9 a. m. The case against Mendez is an old one, dating back to October 26, 1929, when he is asserted to have battled with one Jess Reya at Stanton. He is not being held in connection with the fight last night.

Mendez claimed in court this morning that he already had been tried for the offense but the court could find no record of the case, he reported, and ordered the case transferred to the Anaheim justice court, stating that the Santa Ana court did not have jurisdiction.

Thief Gets $40 From Trousers

A sneak thief who is reported to have used a pass key, robbed G. Plantoni, of the Waverly hotel, of $40 in cash, the money being taken from his trouser pockets, some time last night. The trousers were hanging on a hanger at the back of the door and Plantoni was sleeping in the room at the time, he reported.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

The tragedy and the glory of your life is that it counts for something. You may have all sorts of theories and picture inspiring and compelling ideals, but the world wants to know how they work and what they produce. It will try with your theories and admire your pictures, but it will share the disappointment which you profess only when it sees what you do and what you are becoming.
You cannot escape responsibility for what your life does to the world. It is yours to determine whether his verdict will be, "I never knew you" or "Well done, good and faithful servant." Your choice affects the happiness of the one you love as well as your own.

TAYLOR—In Chicago, Ill., Oct. 3, 1930. Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, aged 58 years, sister of Mrs. O. H. Burke, of Newport Beach, Mrs. Minnie E. Heffner and Mrs. Gertrude G. ## TUSTIN MAN'S WIFE HURT IN DEL MAR CRASH

Robert J. McCord, 57, well known Tustin orchardist, was killed and his wife received serious cuts and bruises when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on the wet pavement and plunged over a 35-foot embankment a mile south of Del Mar, in San Diego county, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. McCord were on their way to San Diego at the time of the crash to visit Mrs. McCord's son, George Nunn, at the naval hospital there, it was reported.

When the car left the road, Mrs. McCord was thrown clear of the machine and thereafter escaped the fate that awaited the husband when the car struck the ditch, 35 feet below. Both were taken to the San Diego county hospital in a private ambulance from the scene of the wreck, but it was discovered that McCord was dead when the hospital was reached. A fractured skull was reported to have been the cause of death.

The body was taken to a San Diego undertaking parlor, where an inquest was expected to be held this afternoon. No funeral arrangements have been announced.

According to reports received in Santa Ana today concerning the accident, a drizzle had made the pavement slippery and the automobile skidded and shot off the embankment. The car turned over seven times in its descent, witnesses reported. McCord was found pinned underneath the wreckage.

McCord had been a resident of the Tustin district for the past several years, coming here from Clay Center, Kans. He was orchardist for the Silver brothers and besides his wife is survived by his aged mother and two sisters, Mrs. Esther Fletcher, of Morganville, Kans., and Miss Leila McCord, of Clay Center.

Friends of the family were of the opinion that the body would be sent back to Kansas for burial.

Members Of Ball Team Guests At Dinner Thursday

Arnold Peek and his "butcher boys" baseball team, winners of the Santa Ana city championship in the night league here, banqueting at Ketter's cafe last night in celebration of their victory, the "feed" being on Peek.

The Peek team got off to a late start early in the season and lost five straight games but proceeded to take all opposition in the second half of the split season, then proceeded to the championship by defeating the Builders Exchange team in the play-off series in two straight games.

Three commissioners of the league, Kenneth Morrison, T. J. Neal and S. B. Kaufman, were present at the dinner.

The guests were served delicious T-bone steaks after which the evening was spent in talk, especially about batting averages, happenings of the past season and football.

Everett Jones, of Orange, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Humiston and Forgy last night on a drunk charge and given a cell in the county jail.

Wanted for escape in El Centro, Francisco Perez, 29, was arrested here last night by Deputy Sheriff McClelland of Imperial county and lodged in the county jail pending a time when he will be returned to El Centro.

Jim Winnie, 30, Santa Ana, was arrested at Fourth and French streets, and V. Quip, of Mesa Grande, was arrested at Fourth and Bush streets last night on charges of being drunk. The men were lodged in the county jail.

Robert Forbes, found asleep in a box car at the Pacific Electric depot, was arrested last night by Officers Hartley and Bowen, on a vagrancy charge.

KREG Will Broadcast Game Here

Co-operating with the Register, KREG will broadcast the Santa Ana junior college-Long Beach junior college football game tomorrow, giving a play by play account of the tussle.

The game will start at 2:30 p. m. The Register and the radio station began broadcasting the local football games last Saturday when an account of the Merle junior college game with the local college was put on the air.

Walnut Picker Is Given Jail Term

Santos Zamacona, of San Pedro, arrested here several days ago on a charge of stealing 25 pounds of walnuts, was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail when he came up before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison this morning.

He was arrested by Jess Buckles, deputy sheriff, after a complaint had been made by C. A. Fleck, walnut grove owner, to the effect that the man had been working for him as a picker and had stolen small quantities of nuts from day to day.

Zamacona was charged with petty theft.

Court Notes

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Gardner A. Murfey was filed today with County Clerk J. M. Backs by Appraiser John N. Anderson, showing a value of $4000. A decree of quiet title is sought in a complaint filed yesterday by the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles against N. J. Hansen, et al. The property is located in Rancho La Balsa Chica.

James A. Marousek has filed a divorce complaint against Rose M. Marousek, in which he charges cruelty. The couple was married in 1910.

On an appeal from a judgment for the plaintiff given by Justice Halsey F. Spence, of Fullerton, a complaint by the Howard company against Floyd S. Stambaugh was filed yesterday afternoon in superior court. The action seeks possession of an ice cream cabinet and compressor, and damages of $50 for detention thereof.

Judge H. G. Ames yesterday returned judgment of $803.75 for LeRoy Hall, after hearing evidence in the contested claim Hall was making against the city of Santa Ana in connection with the value of property the city condemned for the opening of Santa Ana boulevard.

The trial of Albert Kratz, charged with a statutory offense, was re-set today by Judge G. K. Scovel for November 12. Kratz was tried on the charge before a jury of 12 men in Judge Scovel's court this week, but the jury was unable to agree on a verdict.

Carrie L. Clapp filed a suit today against R. W. Clapp, asking a decree of divorce. She charges her mate with extreme cruelty. They were married October 4, 1905, and separated September 27, 1930.

Continue Case Of L. A. Man Arrested On Driving Charge

Charged with reckless driving, D. Filippini, of Los Angeles, was granted a continuance of his case in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning until October 16, at 10 a. m. He was released on his own recognizance.

Filippini is alleged to have been the driver of a car which figured in an accident in the Laguna canyon on September 24, at which members of the Anapaula baseball team of the Hewes ranch were injured.

Rolph Boosters To Meet In Fullerton

Plans for a booster meeting for the Republican nominee for governor, Mayor James Rolph Jr., of San Francisco, next Tuesday evening in McFarland's cafe in Fullerton with delegations from northern Orange county cities attending, were announced today by members of the Orange county G.O.P. central committee.

Frank Merriam, of Long Beach, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, or Congressman Evans, of Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker at the rally meeting. Delegates are expected from La Habra, Brea, Yorba Linda, Placentia, Buena Park and Anaheim.

Denies Guilt In Bogus Check Count

Informations were filed against two prisoners in superior court today when the criminal calendar was called by Judge G. K. Scovel. One of the defendants entered a plea of not guilty, while the other is to make an answer to his arraignment next week.

A fictitious check charge was contained in the information filed by the office of District Attorney Z. B. West against John E. Corbett. It is alleged that on September 20 he gave J. A. Holmberg a check for $42.50 made out to J. E. Corbett and signed with a fictitious name. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned and Judge Scovel set October 23 as the date for the trial.

A statutory offense against a 17-year-old girl was charged against George Graham. The crime is alleged to have been committed on August 14. Graham is to make answer to the arraignment on October 14.

Gasoline, Grease Taken from Truck

REGAL BAKERS OF CALIFORNIA LOCATING HERE

Orange county enjoys the reputation of having perhaps the most outstanding group of civic conscious citizens of any part of California. The loyal spirit of her people has speeded the development of the county's agricultural wealth, as well as of local industries which serve the daily needs of her 118,000 people.

A further impulse in the development of industries here is the fact that the strategic location of Santa Ana makes this a logical center of distribution for the perishable products of her industries to all of Southern California. Thus, more and more does this city attract manufacturers who see here opportunity for building industries which eventually will find logical markets in the great territory tributary to Orange county.

Influenced by these facts, one of America's leading food experts, George Gould, several months ago, selected Santa Ana as the center of operations for Regal Bakers of California, manufacturers and distributors of Regal bread and cake, which are said to be the result of years of scientific work in the baking field. Gould brings to Santa Ana an international reputation as one of the leading engineers in the baking world today. Young George Gould was graduated from the Royal Polytechnic School of Fermentology in London, with thorough training in the science of chemistry as applied to the baking industry.

He wasn't content merely to follow the teachings of his masters. Almost immediately upon his graduation his inquiring mind began seeking improvements in the art of baking. Establishing himself first in London, Gould's fame as a progressive, practical technician in the baking field spread all over Europe, and he became probably the best known baking engineer consultant on the continent.

Then America beckoned, and Gould came to this country in 1910 and associated himself with Ward Baking company, of New York, then the world's largest producers of bread and cake. Gould, in addition to his engineering reputation as a bakery engineer, is well known as the inventor of the Gould system of bread and cake making, which assures uniform higher quality of production and now is used in many of the leading baking plants of America.

Gould came to Santa Ana through the influence of Hobart Roberts, member of an old New York family, who prior to becoming a Southern Californian was associated with the DuPont corporation in Europe and later in America. Roberts will attend to the business interests of the Regal Bakers of California, while Gould assumes full responsibility for production. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, with their young daughter, have been residents of Santa Ana since 1928.

Gould and his family are domiciled at 1001 North Parton street. His young daughter, Gladys Byrnie, is a talented artist, educated abroad, and a widely traveled young woman, having crossed the Atlantic twelve times. George Gould Jr. will be associated with his father in production work for the Regal Bakers.

In commenting upon the company, and its work, Gould said today, "Regal Bakers of California is an Orange county industry in the fullest meaning of that word. Its headquarters will be maintained in Santa Ana, and its ownership is entirely local. The products of the plant will be the finest that modern science has devised, for in Regal bread and cakes will be concentrated all the improvements which it has been my privilege to contribute to the baking industry. Orange county people can rest assured that the highest standards always will be maintained, for our aim is to give to this beauty spot of Southern California an industry of which every citizen will be proud."

EXECUTIVE

Hobart Roberts, below, handles the business interests of Regal Bakers of California. He formerly was connected with the DuPont corporation, representing it both in the United States and Europe.

Beach Couple In Surprise Wedding

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 10.

—Miss Eloise Miller and Jerry Robertson were married October 6 at Las Vegas, Nev. The wedding was a complete surprise to the relatives and friends of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, without announcing their plans, left presumably for an auto ride, and the next heard from was when Mrs. John Marion, sister of Miss Miller, received a telegram announcing their marriage.

The happy couple returned to Huntington Beach Wednesday and Wednesday night their friends surprised them with a charivari. The bride and groom were taken from the Marion home, 709 Tenth street, and given an auto parade through the business district to the accompaniment of tin can music and shouting and songs. The parade ended at a drug store, where the groom was forced to treat the crowd.

Mrs. Robertson graduated from the Huntington Beach high school last June and has been taking a business course at a Santa Ana business college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller, of Ventura, but has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. John Marion, in this city, while attending high school and college.

The groom is employed in the oil field at Long Beach and the young couple will make their home in that city.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Oct. 10. —Harry Burman, president of the Los Potos Gun club, was host to a party of 10 Los Angeles friends at the club when he entertained with a dinner party. After dinner the party went to Huntington Beach, where they enjoyed a fishing party returning from there to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury and children and Mr. and Mrs. George Applebury attended the county fair for a day and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips entertained at dinner Sunday, their guests including Mrs. Eliza Phillips, mother of Mr. Phillips; Mr. and Mrs. James Bramley and daughter, Gertrude Bramley, and grandson, George Bramley, relatives from Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ruether and family, of Huntington Beach, and Dr. and Mrs. Hawkins, of Pasadena.

ern California an industry of which every citizen will be proud.

"Both Mrs. Gould and I are delighted with the cordial reception accorded us and look forward to many years of service and happiness here."

BETTER KODAK WORK

The Kodak Finishing Work is sure rolling in these days at the McCoy Stores. And for a very good reason. McCoy's Kodak finishing is the best to be found in the town. All prints are made on Eastman Velox. Velox Print Paper is the finest paper Eastman knows how to make. It costs more, but our prices to you remain the same. After you have gone to work and spent your time and money trying to get a few good snap-shots it sure is disappointing to have the kodak finishing done in a poor manner. Leave your films at McCoy's—avoid all disappointment. Get finer work and a free enlargement with every $3.00 worth of finishing coupons.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holditch and daughter, Gwendolyn, of Palm Springs, spent the week end with relatives.

Miss Levara Raney leaves Saturday for Santa Ana, where she will make her home for the winter and will attend junior college.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tritt and daughter, Jean, and son, Billy, spent the week end with Mrs. Tritt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Gilman, at Redondo Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Berryman and little son, of Orange, and Mrs. William Varcoe went to San Pedro and Los Angeles Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tritt called on Sunday afternoon at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Defty, in Long Beach. Mr. Defty is a noted cellist and Mrs. Defty is a talented pianist.

Plans are being made by the Parent-Teacher association to give a carnival at Villa Park hall for the whole community Halloween. A supper and program will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindstrom and daughter, Clara, of Midway City, were Tuesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Burns.

NEW STADIUM READY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 10.—The new Texas Christian university sports stadium will be dedicated in the game with Arkansas here Saturday.

OUTSIDE FIRES BEFORE ORANGE CITY COUNCIL

ORANGE, Oct. 10.—A proposition whereby one of the city's fire trucks would be permitted to answer calls in Olive, Villa Park, El Modena and West Orange, in cases of extreme emergency, has been submitted to the city council by the Orange Merchants' Service bureau and will be taken under consideration at the next regular meeting of the city council.

The merchants' organization, through a special committee composed of O. E. Gunther, W. G. Hagen and Alfred Huhn, has indicated a willingness to pay the additional premium required on insurance covering liability incidental to loss of life, personal injuries and property damage that might be incurred while answering an outside call by the local department.

Inquiries revealed that the city's insurance, covering the operations of the fire department, becomes void when the fire apparatus is taken out of the city, with the result that liability for injuries and damage falls upon the city council and the fire chief.

Orange Rotarians Arrange Meeting Thursday Evening

ORANGE, Oct. 10.—Business matters connected with the organization occupied the greater portion of the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday. Because of this fact, it was learned, no speaker was listed on the program.

Dr. J. C. Crawford, president of the club, announced that the next week's meeting will be held next Thursday evening at the Woman's clubhouse for which a special program is being arranged.

PROGRAM FOR FARM CENTER IS ARRANGED

VILLA PARK, Oct. 10.—An instructive as well as entertaining program has been arranged for the annual dinner meeting of the Villa Park-Olive farm center to be held on October 14 at 615 p. m. at the Villa Park hall.

Listed as speakers on the program are Assemblyman Ted Craig, of Brea, and Sen. Nels Edwards, of Orange. Assemblyman Craig will speak on "Water Legislation in the Legislature" and Senator Edwards will report on his trip to the Boulder dam with Mayor Rolph. There also will be a discussion of the various amendments to be voted on November 4. The dinner will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

Officers will be elected. All members of the center are urged to be present.

$75,000 MOTOR INN FINISHED IN NOVEMBER

The structure, erected at the intersection of McKinley avenue and Roosevelt highway, near what is known as "Charlie's Point," is one of the most attractive, in point of location and architectural development along the coastline. George C. Burnett, of Santa Ana, the architect, and his brother, R. N. Burnett, contractor in charge of the construction of the inn, have built an apartment house which is unique both in design and construction.

Built in the form of an L, the inn is located on a tract of land 175 by 1000 feet in size, extending from Roosevelt highway to the high tide, at the ocean front. There are 29 apartments and 28 garages. The building is modern to the last degree and each apartment is completely equipped with electrical devices.

An attractive feature of the Motor Inn is the large open room between each pair of apartments. This is finished with a dance floor and will be used for bridge parties or small dancing parties. In winter weather one of the open sides, that towards the ocean, will be enclosed with glass.

The grounds in front of the apartments will be landscaped and a spot in what is the old bed of the river will be developed into a swimming pool.

If all goes as expected, it is planned to open the new Motor Inn on Thanksgiving day. W. D. Moore, Mrs. L. Lawrence and Frank Daniels, owners of the property, are planning a celebration to mark the event.

Mr. Moore, who is a former cattleman and potato grower of Carbondale, in northwestern Colorado, and Mrs. Lawrence are residents of Dana Point. Mr. Daniels lives in Pasadena.

The Union Oil company has leased a tract 75 by 100 feet near the entrance to the inn and will erect a super service station to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. The station will be two stories in height and will be topped with a 40-foot tower, equipped with beacon lights.

A two story building will be erected near the gas station which will contain two stores, one for a market and grocery store, the other for lunch counter and drinks.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register, Sir:

An article in tonight's Orange Daily News concerning the G. O. P. meeting held at Santa Ana cafe last night, inspired me to express myself as follows:

I usually align myself with the Republican party, but I hold my principles far above the idea of voting for a Republican nominee just because he is a Republican.

I do not give a rap for what any person says about bolting a political party.

Since the best candidates for nomination were defeated, the only thing that honest-to-goodness decent people can do, is to bolt the party for now by voting for Milton K. Young, as Mayor James Rolph, Jr. is an avowed "wet." I wouldn't belong to such a "common herd" as Rolph's kind, and those that may vote for him.

Why is it that the Eighteenth amendment is attacked all the time? I have never seen any statement in Constitution of U. S. that permits repealing of any amendments. If there was, or is, it's a wonder our constitution has lasted so long. No law is, or ever has been enforced 100 per cent, but we have to have laws to go by. If England had prohibition, I believe there would be fewer jails and prisons than there is now, because fortunately for them, and to our shame, they are a more law-abiding, respecting people. Of course it is natural that we can not agree on all subjects all the time, but nevertheless, I find that your paper has the best editorials of any paper in Orange county; and I do admire you for your support of Eighteenth amendment among other things.

I am a native of Orange, Orange county, Calif., and incidentally I was born on Orange street. We have been long time subscribers of your paper, and thoroughly enjoy it.

I suggest you print this letter for benefit of those that attended the G. O. P. meeting last night and others.

Yours truly,

—Ronald Boring.

Editor Register, Dear Sir: I was sure pleased to see and read your editorial in yesterday's paper in regard to putting principle above party in voting. You reserve praise for it. I am a Republican, but I believe every voter that wants to uphold our laws and the Constitution should put his or her party to one side and to vote for the one who is not afraid to say he will uphold all our laws and in a special manner the 18th amendment. I know others who think as I do and we say keep it up and we will back you up to the last ditch.

Very truly yours,

—W. H. Townsend.

Editor Register, Dear Sir: I see that some Republicans are inclined to criticize your editorial of recent date wherein you take a stand for dry. I am a lifetime Republican and over sixty years old but want to congratulate you on the stand you have taken and when the votes are counted Nov. 4th you will see I am not alone.

What did we do in 1928 when Al Smith (who was wet clear through) ran for president. We insisted that every decent, dry, law-abiding Democrat forsake his party and vote for principle and the way they did it surprised the natives. And we all patting them on the back and called them good loyal Americans, and so they were. Now it is our turn to show our colors, what are we going to do? There is in my opinion no difference except the ticket is turned around. "Wet" and "dry" is the fight and the sooner it is settled the better. If we are as loyal now as the Democrats were in '28 our next California candidates for governor will both be dry. I cannot see where we will hurt President Hoover's administration by electing a "dry" governor. If Rolph is elected governor every Democratic paper in the U. S. will come out with big headlines to tell the world California has dropped in line with us and in '32 we will elect a wet president. Of course we have a lot of politicians who have to Soft, wavy hair!

The modern sculptured bobs do wonders to bring out your personality. But like other present-day modes of arranging the hair, they call attention to it. That's why it's so important nowadays to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant. The easiest and quickest way to give new lustre and color to hair, which has begun to look dull and lifeless, is with Danderine. And it makes the hair softer, easier to arrange; holds it in place.

Here's all you do. Each time you use your brush just put a little Danderine on it. It remedies the oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color; gives it more gloss than brilliantine. Waves "set" with it stay in longer.

Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition. It stops falling hair. A small bottle is enough to show its merit. Start on it tonight.

and put in order to remain in the political ring and say I have always been loyal to my party right or wrong. I am proud to see the leading paper of Orange county criticized for the stand it has taken instead of being criticized for supporting a "wet" ticket. More power to you and your clean paper.

EDITOR REGISTER:

Your editorial of the 7th inst. was fine, I'm a Republican but I'll certainly vote for Milton K. Young. Yours sincerely,

89TH BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED IN HANSEN HOME

HANSEN, Oct. 10.—Dr. D. Webster Kurtz and wife and members of the Bible class of the Church of the Brethren of Long Beach and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan in celebration of Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman's 89th birthday this week.

All three of her children were present, J. F. Bowman, S. H. Bowman and Mrs. W. H. Morgan. One handsome bouquet of dahlias, presented by Mr. and Mrs. George Trapp, decorated the living room. Many of the flowers were 10 inches in diameter, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hammond furnished a bouquet of exquisite red roses for the dinner table. Each woman had brought a covered dish. S. H. Bowman purchased the birthday cake, which was decorated in wreaths of pink and white roses of ice. Mrs. Morgan brought a fine large angel food cake.

Those enjoying the feast were Dr. and Mrs. Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughman, Mr. and Mrs. Bohn, Mr. and Mrs. Blakenstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, the Rev. Masterman, Mr. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Cline and Mrs. Rexroad, Mrs. Nevins, Mrs. Bohn, Mrs. Moomaw, Mrs. Smalley, Mrs. Jameson and Mrs. Williams all of Long Beach, J. F. Bowman, of Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bowman and two daughters, Mrs. Edna Pebley and Mrs. Mary Wilcox, Irvine, Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan and daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Morgan and little Junior Morgan.

In the afternoon the Bible class of the Church of the Brethren gave its yearly report. Mrs. Rexroad is teacher of this class. Mrs. Bohn, secretary of the class gave the yearly report. The Rev. Mr. Kurtz, Mr. Vaughman, S. H. Bowman, Mrs. Kurtz and Mrs. Bohn talked on their trip abroad and the Rev. Mr. Masterman also talked.

Auxiliary Heads Report On Oct. 14

PLACENTIA, Oct. 10.—Reports of officers of the past year will be heard at the regular business meeting of the Placentia American Legion auxiliary Tuesday evening, and the new president, Mrs. Helen Rymer, will announce committees for the new year. Mrs. Rymer has requested that dues be paid at this meeting.

Future plans to be discussed are the American Legion entry, a "California" float, at the Armistice day parade at Anaheim, and a rummage sale which is to be held soon. Mrs. Rymer and Mrs. Minnie Aldridge are in charge of the sale and will accept or collect donations.

Soprano Soloist At Fall Concert In Laguna Nov. 1

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Florence Tozier, coloratura soprano, will be soloist at the first fall season concert of the Laguna Beach Little Symphony orchestra November 1 at the grammar school auditorium.

The orchestra numbers will be Tschalkowsky's "Nutcracker Suite," the First Symphony of Beethoven and the overture from "The Merry Wives of Windsor." The orchestra has been rehearsing for the concert for a number of weeks. It is the first one of the season.

COMMUNITY DINNER PLANNED ON OCT. 16

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 10.—American Legion post No. 355, Capistrano Beach, will start the ball rolling for a community Christmas celebration next Thursday evening with a dinner served to the community leaders in the Bird cafe. The post will entertain its guests the following representative men and women: Dr. Hugh McNinch, pastor of the Community church; the Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan, Judge John Landell, John Malcom, superintendent of the Capistrano union high school; C. C. Crumrine, superintendent of the water company; Ferris Kelly, Judge R. Y. Williams, E. B. DePree, E. T. Brown, of Capistrano Beach, and Aaron Buchheim, of Serra; Mrs. J. Russell Cook, president of the Capistrano Woman's club; Mrs. Carl Hankey and Mrs. J. Roy Smith, prominent women in club and church circles, will be included in the guest list.

Placentia Girls' In Dinner Session

PLACENTIA, Oct. 10.—The Eleri club of Calvary church met Wednesday evening for a pot-luck dinner and three new members joined. This club is for high school, college and business girls, and Miss Irene Hunter, of Pomona, is leader. The club is divided into two sides, with Thelma Gunst and Evelyn Henthorne as leaders, and the three new members, Edna Stover, of Fullerton; Bonnie Talbert and Ola Edmiston, were credited to Miss Gunst's division. Present at the meeting were Helen Caldwell, Doris Berry, Edna Stover, Mary Lou Gunst, Mildred Houck, Thelma Stewart, Thelma Gunst, Verna Rae Edmiston and Ola Edmiston, all of Fullerton; Mabel Smith and Ella Armstrong of Olinda; Norene Henry, Evelyn Henthorne and Sara Conn of Atwood; Audrey Gover and Wilma Smith of Anaheim; Irene Hunter, Pomona; Eva Hale, Bonnie Talbert, Marie Talbert, Dorothy Newbold, Lorraine Hitt, Frances Howard and Helen Hurst, Placentia.

CHLORINATION PLANT URGED IN BEACH CITY

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—Sewers came twice before the city council at Wednesday night's meeting and drainage and street matters had their place, though the council handled only a minimum of business in the absence of Councilmen Frank B. Champion, III, and Maurice B. McMillan, out of the city.

Stuart Herrick complained of sewage backing up in his residence at 282 Cypress drive and asserted that this had happened on three occasions, causing him considerable loss as well as much inconvenience. He thought he should be reimbursed and said that a precedent had been created in a similar case about a year ago. City Clerk George W. Prior was unable to find any record on the minutes showing this, however. The roots had blocked the sewer line and was a constant source of trouble was the statement of City Engineer Frank P. Gowan, who recommended that the line be re-laid and vitrified pipe put in with joints treated with root-proof compound. His off-hand estimate of the cost was $150 and he was instructed to do this work.

A communication from R. L. Patterson, city engineer of Newport Beach, highly commended a chlorination plant. George Bates, Santa Ana, engineer, told of his experience with chlorination, recommended the use of one here, and said that only by a study of conditions would it be possible to know what other methods might be needed. Possibility of the need of a burner to consume sewer gas was suggested. No action was taken on ordering a chlorinator pending a more complete attendance at the council meeting.

Leakage in the water line of the Skidmore water system serving Coast Royal at a point where the line crosses Park avenue was referred to City Attorney Leslie F. Kimmel for legal opinion. That the attorney should secure full information on the line throughout the city was suggested by Councilman McCrea, who anticipated the need of such information, he said. City Engineer Gowan was instructed to report on increase of size of drain on Coast boulevard near the conduit, gate into the conduit at or near the point where it was tapped to admit flood water last winter, and for additional drainage on Park avenue.

Ordinance No. 83 was passed. This concerns the bond election. Resolution of intention regarding abandoning of a small triangular strip on Coast boulevard to B. O. Miller and Abraham H. Post, property owners, was adopted. Resolution of intention regarding an exchange with T. J. Moen to straighten Coast boulevard was introduced but not read as the discussion regarding legal technicalities of title made the securing of additional information seem desirable. The city engineer was instructed to have a preliminary title search made.

319 STUDENTS IN SCHOOL AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—Enrollment for the first month of the school year totaled 319, according to a report made by Principal George K. Bingham. Of these, 24 were in the kindergarten grade of Georgia Bingham, 33 in the first grade of Marie Madden, 24 in the second grade of Mrs. Phyllis Ranney, 23 in the second grade of Marie Schleicher, 36 in the third grade of Miss Ruth Bardwell, 29 in the fourth grade of Mrs. Maund Tiet, 43 in the fifth grade of Mrs. Wilberta Main, 36 in the sixth grade of Miss Dorothy Green, 40 in the seventh grade of Miss Dorothy Brinkels, 31 in the eighth grade of C. Addison Van Loenen.

Pupils of the school made a good showing at the county fair for rural school art work, receiving the longest list of ribbons for any rural school. These went to Richard DuPresne of the first grade, Foshiko Ishida of the second grade, Thelma Finnegan of the fifth grade, taught last year by Miss Helen Seymour, Newell Martin, Mary Belle Sheridan, Joyce Brown, Jack Chambers, Marjorie Gowan and Susan Luckey of the eighth grade.

Arrange Services At Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—The Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. H. Bell are to be at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday at 7:30 o'clock, according to word from the Rev. John C. Donnell. In addition to the Sunday night service, there will also be services at 10 a. m., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. When holding services for one week in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Los Angeles a few months ago, Dr. and Mrs. Bell filled the church to capacity before the week was over. They talk on health and couple it up with religion.

Kin United After Long Separation

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 10.—R. E. Thompson, 711 Quincy street, and his brother, A. C. Thompson, of Los Angeles, met recently for the first time in 43 years. A stranger walked into the Huntington Beach post office where Bill and Ralph Thompson are employed, and inquired if they were the sons of R. E. Thompson. The stranger was A. C. Thompson, brother of R. E. Thompson and uncle of Bill and Ralph.

The Thompson family was residing at Creston, Ia., 43 years ago. A. C. Thompson was 10 years old and his brother, R. E. Thompson, was 25 years old. R. E. said good-bye to the family and came west to California. The younger brother grew up and also came west to California, but during the 43 years the two brothers had never seen each other nor heard directly from each other.

Both married and each raised a family of three children. Five years ago A. C. Thompson moved to Los Angeles with his family and recently he heard through a relative in the east that his brother, R. E. Thompson, was living in Huntington Beach. He came to this city in search of his brother and the reunion followed.

WATER SUPPLY DISCUSSED AT BREA SESSION

BREA, Oct. 10.—The water supply here was discussed at the chamber of commerce meeting Wednesday in the Olsen-Dyer cafe, with 17 in attendance.

Councilman O. S. Close, speaking on the subject, stated that the council was considering putting down a well for a water test east of town. They expect to drill to a depth of between three and four hundred feet, taking a record all the way down, and at a cost of about $3 per foot. No bond issue will be required and if a good supply of water is developed, it will be possible to sell some of it. Close said. The present line which brings water from La Habra is old, and causes much trouble by breaking at frequent intervals, he declared. President L. A. Hogue introduced the discussion. It was decided that the time was opportune for another try for rural free delivery service, and the committee, headed by H. Massey, was asked to look into the matter. It was brought out that the Fullerton delivery was bringing mail to within a block of the grammar school, and that some people were being served by two rural routes.

C. R. Jackson reported on the airport, permission to establish an airport having been granted by Loftus. It was announced that a light would be installed at the field by the Union Oil company and work is to go ahead at once. Mrs. Isaac Craig, president of the American Legion auxiliary, was introduced to the assembly, and talked on welfare work, particularly the baby clinic, which now has enough funds to carry on work for the year, and which, she said, is doing such good work that there will be less need for the preventorium in the future.

The evening meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held October 24 at the Legion hall, and will be combined with the October meeting of the Imperial Highway association. The Legion auxiliary will serve the dinner.

Farm Center Of La Habra Names Officers Oct. 16

LA HABRA, Oct. 10.—The annual dinner meeting of the La Habra Farm Center will be held October 16 at 6:15 p. m., at the Social hall, one block south of the Masonic hall at La Habra. O. E. Steward, member of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water district and chairman of the water conservation committee of the Orange County Farm bureau, will speak on "Metropolitan Water District and Its Relation to Agriculture." Mr. Steward is also the managing engineer for the outfall sewer district.

John Knudson will give a report on "Important Measures Affecting Agriculture on the November Ballot." There will be election of officers.

FINES ADD TO EXCHANGE CLUB CHARITY FUND

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 10.—The Newport Beach Exchange club enjoyed a novel program at its weekly meeting held at the Newport Harbor Yacht club Wednesday noon. The feature of the affair was the presentation of a collection of jingles concerning several members of the organization, which were written by the club's poet laureate, Jack Twist, who also served for the second time in his new capacity as secretary.

Fire Chief Crocker gave a brief address on fire prevention in observance of the week devoted to that cause. He demonstrated the beneficial results of public cooperation in fire prevention by citing figures which showed the annual fire loss in Newport Beach, in the three years since prevention efforts had been instituted, had fallen from $11,700 to $6,100.

C. V. Simpson, sales manager of the Otto G. Wildy company, developers of the former Pacific Electric tract, now known as El Bayo Balboa, asked the co-operation of the club's members in effecting the removal of the municipal auto camp on the bay front to the west of Fifteenth street, an enterprise which he believed handicapped real estate development in the vicinity.

H. O. Ensign, district superintendent of schools for Newport Beach, stated the existing school plant, with respect to both buildings and play ground area, was being used to its maximum capacity. He said the question of acquiring additional class rooms was not a serious one, financially or otherwise, but that no increase could be made in building facilities unless a corresponding increase was effected in play ground area. The only way this could be done, Mr. Ensign remarked, was for the city twice the amount of beach in front of the school as is now being utilized for the purpose.

160 ATTRACTED TO DINNER OF ANAHEIM CLUB

ANAHEIM, Oct. 10.—Members of the Anaheim Business and Professional Woman's club were hosts at a reciprocity dinner meeting last night at which 160 members from the various clubs of Orange county and guests among whom were the county president, Miss Gertrude DeGelder, L. E. Behrmer, Los Angeles Impresario; Roy Harris, composer, Laurel Nemith, Los Angeles, soprano, Walter David, editor, Music World; Mr. and Mrs. Walburg of the Walburg studios in Fullerton; Prof. D. C. Clantoni, Santa Ana, and Louis Danz, Anaheim composer, were present.

President Ruth Taunton presided at the meeting, which was one of the prettiest and most educational affairs held in Anaheim this year. After introducing the presidents of the various clubs, who in turn introduced their guests, Miss Taunton turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Robble Anderson, who in turn introduced the music chairman, Kate E. McCullah, who presented an attractive program featuring contemporary American music. First to be introduced was Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, of the Orange County Fair association, who spoke briefly of the co-operation of many present in the establishment of a fine arts division on the fair program, after which winning compositions in the county fair were played. They were "Mazurka," played by Katherine Anna McCullah, her own composition; "In the Cool of the Evening," by Louis Danz, and played by him; "Do Not Go My Love," also by Louis Danz, sung by Laurel Nemith, Los Angeles, accompanied by Franz Darvas, Anna Priscilla Fisher, of Laguna Beach, also a winner, was not able to be present. The fair awards were presented last night by L. A. Behrmer.

Walter David gave an inspirational talk followed by an address by Roy Harris, a plea that American citizens lend themselves to the mystic plan of life. He said that America had passed the period of infancy and almost youth and that she will not be respected until we send cultured people to Europe. E. E. Behrmer in an address on "Contemporary American Music and Composers" talked mainly on what they are facing. Stating that there is more talent in four counties, among which is Orange, than any other counties in the state, also mentioning Alameda, Sacramento and Los Angeles counties, he said they have the talent and have the money and some time the great symphony will come from the great opera will come from California. Three composition, he said, which have lived to stand the test and are from American composers are "The End of a Perfect Day," "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "The Little Gray Home in the West." "Little by little our people are being recognized but as long as Americans will not pay American artists for American programs so long will America be not recognized. He also pointed to Raspaw's "Dress" as an outstanding composition. American music is increasing in value, he said, and little by little the west is improving over the east. To confirm local interest in American music, a petition was read by the Anaheim president and unanimously adopted by the entire assembly, to the effect that the body petition, the Philharmonic orchestra, Hollywood Bowl association, Behrmer concerts Los Angeles Grand Opera association and all others concerned to extend a just interest in and initiative toward the presentation of serious contemporary American music. The petition was signed by the entire assembly.

Methodist Church Leagues Arrange Picnic At Park

FULLERTON, Oct. 10.—A large crowd is expected to attend the steak bake to be held tonight at the Irvine park by leagues of the Fullerton and Garden Grove Methodist Episcopal churches. It was announced by the committee which is in charge of the arrangements.

Games and other entertainment has been planned for the evening following the steak bake. Members of the Fullerton league will leave the church at 5:30 o'clock. Transportation is being planned for those who have no way to go. Discussion of league activities throughout the county are planned for the evening.

BENEFIT PROGRAM PLANNED AT SCHOOL

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Florence Summers, who is in charge of the program to be given at the Newport harbor union high school November 21, for the benefit of the Beautification association of Newport, Balboa and Costa Mesa, announced today that plays and skits will be presented at this unique affair by practically all of the clubs and organizations in the harbor district, including the Friday Afternoon club, Ebell club, Civic league, Exchange club, Lions club, Boy Scouts and others.

The proceeds of the affair will be used by the association for the beautification work now in progress along Newport boulevard in Costa Mesa and down into Newport Beach. W. Carl Spencer, of Costa Mesa, who has given a great deal of time and effort to this cause, is assisting with plans for the benefit.

SOCIETY TO CONVENE

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—The first meeting following the summer vacation of the Theosophical society will be held Sunday at Westwind, corner Cliff Drive and Jasmine, the home of Miss Annie Gayne Peake, at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Peake will speak on the international convention of Theosophical societies of the world held at Geneva, Switzerland, this summer. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Members present were Mesdames C. Earl, G. Schlosser, L. Wood, H. Batchelder, L. Johns, L. Gilchrist, C. Rucker, J. Bennett, A. Herrins, I. Jamieson, N. Ordway, C. Armistage, O. Cresswell, M. Jenkins, F. Allen, visitors, Mesdames Josephine and C. Carwood.

SKIT GIVEN AT SUNSET BEACH CLUB SESSION

SUNSET BEACH, Oct. 10.—The Sunset Beach Woman's club met at the clubhouse Thursday with Mrs. C. Rucker as hostess. At the business meeting, with Mrs. C. M. Earl, president, presiding, it was decided that the Woman's club would entertain the chamber of commerce at the next meeting with a box supper, the proceeds to help pay for recently purchased chairs and tables.

Each member was called on to make a report on ways to make money for the club. Mesdames L. Wood and C. Rucker suggested a bazaar to be held at the holiday season, which they will have charge of, each member was requested to make some thing for the sale. The kangaroo party immediately followed the meeting. Mrs. O. Cresswell, opened the program with a clever reading, Mesdames C. M. Earl and Josephine Sheeley, dressed in gowns of 50 years ago, gave a "cornet" solo. A skit was given with Mrs. N. Ordway taking the part of an Italian organ grinder, Mrs. C. Armistage, dressed to represent the monkey and Mrs. G. Schlosser as the kypsy fortune teller. Last but not least was "Cinderella" in three acts. Those taking part were Harriett Batchelder, Cinderella; May Jenkins and Fanny Allen, step sisters; Lenore Johns, fair god-mother; Louise Wood, king, and Coda Armistage, prince.

Mesdames L. Gilchrist and J. Bennett were appointed as judges by the hostess for the best act which was won by the Italian organ grinder, cutting for low, Mrs. N. Ordway, won a beautiful lamp. Consolation prize went to Mrs. F. Allen. Mrs. L. Gilchrist won the judges' prize. The hostess, Mrs. C. Rucker, presented the club with a beautiful French doll, which will be sold. A vote of thanks was given to the hostess. The next meeting will be a business meeting October 23 at the clubhouse.

Girls Getting Faster and Faster

How the new girl champions, striving for fame like Helen Wills and Glenna Collett, have broken all speed records in sports for women
And they are just getting started

Helene Madison, 17-year-old Seattle high school girl... all through the past summer broke records with monotonous regularity... clipping through the water as no girl had ever done before.

Helen Filkey, a veteran track star as girls go... She started running at 15... but this past summer cut down her own record time in the 80-yard hurdles.

Stella Walsh, the fastest girl in the world... broke three world's sprint records in five days... but feels that her younger sister, Clara, whom she is training... may be an even greater star.

WOMEN are speeding up. Every year they are getting a little faster.

The fleet-footed Diana, who was the talk of the gods a few thousand years ago back in Olympus, because she knew how to run, wouldn't have a chance with America's champions today. There is Stella Walsh, for instance, who could tell the goddess a few things about sprinting. Stella knows how it is done. To prove it she established three world's sprinting records for women within five days at the women's athletic meet at Dallas, Texas, in July.

There are Betty Robinson and Helen Filkey, who bettered two women's world track records in the Central Amateur Athletic Union meet at Chicago last June.

Helene Madison, who is responsible for a new world's record of 1 minute 8 1-5 seconds in the 100-meter free-style finals of the National A. A. U. swimming finals, has a way of her own with her legs and arms.

And Babe Didrickson can throw a javelin or a baseball with more style than Diana ever used when she hurled a weapon after a deer on one of her mythical hunting trips. No, the ancient goddess simply isn't in it with the five new athletes.

Stella Walsh leads the list. Every time she runs she breaks a record. And she has no fear that she will come in behind another sprinter.

Stella is modest, though. And many have noted the quiet look on her face just before she leaves the mark. No hurry or tenseness at all. That is because Stella trusts herself.

"As soon as I get on the mark I have a feeling that the race is won already," she explains soberly. "All I do is run then. I guess I've always run. I did it in high school. But you ought to see my kid sister! She's going to take some records, too!"

CLARA, the sister, is in training under the champion. Every other night Stella goes out to the field at her old high school, in Cleveland, and runs for an hour to keep in form. Sometimes she goes fast and sometimes she goes slowly. Just the way she happens to feel. She never times herself. But she has an intuition that tells her when she is going good and when she isn't. But, as a rule, the intuition says favorable things, Stella bashfully admits.

Miss Walsh, whose Polish name of Walasiewicz was much too long for her admirers, first broke into the running game while competing for a Polish organization in her native city. Later, when the girls of the New York Central Railroad offices, where she works in Cleveland, were taking up athletics, she announced that she would like to run, too.

The committee was impressed. Slim, lithe, above medium height, with steely muscles, steady brown eyes, she looked as though she had stamina and speed.

So they signed her up. Within one year she was the greatest sprinter in the world. She hadn't gone into athletics as a hit-or-miss proposition. She had spent one year in intensive training first.

Every time Stella enters a meet she dashes to greater fame. When she went down to Dallas, Texas, she put her name at the head of the list for the 100 and 200-yard dashes and the broad jump. She quietly ran off with half of the six new world records which feminine track and field contestants set. She entered three events and made a record in each. That's not merely good—that's perfect!

Babe played for three years on the girls' basketball team of the Beaumont High School, down in Texas. The team lost one game. And Babe collected points as easily as she collected autographs for her annual. Her single game scoring record shows 76 points, won in a game back in 1929.

Her all-time scoring record averages nearly 35 points a game. She passes, shoots and dribbles like a male college star. There is no difference in style.

Babe wanted to play football. The school authorities shook their heads. But the girl organized her own amateur eleven, and took a halfback position, where her punts and off-tackle slants made the boys of her own age sit up and take notice. Babe might have been an all-Texas interscholastic halfback if it hadn't been for the school authorities.

In addition, she drops to the 70s quite often in golf and a low 80 is her worst. She is a swimming and diving instructor. She is good at archery. She plays baseball. She boxes. And the singles championship in tennis in the Beaumont High School belongs to her.

Elizabeth Robinson, better known to her friends as Betty, who pressed Stella Walsh pretty hard in the century at

THE signal was given. Tennis shoes and all, Elizabeth won the race so easily that the coach and everybody else gasped.

She has been setting records regularly ever since. She was the only girl from the United States to come home with a victory when the Olympic games were held in Amsterdam. No other American girl saw the Stars and Stripes go up because she had won. She covered the 100-yard dash in 12 1-5 seconds, but when she came back home to Chicago she entered another meet and clipped a full second from her time, hanging up the world's record for speed by doing the 100 in 11 1-5 seconds.

Then she went to Texas to hurl the javelin and baseball and win some more laurels. Elizabeth's older sister believes that pride should begin at home. She is glad hers did. Or she might never have told the amateur officials that there was some speed to her kid sister.

Elizabeth cooks and types and does acrobatic and tap dancing. She intends to train to be a physical instructor and it's safe to bet that every girl, no matter how small and unassuming she may be, will have a chance to show her speed in Elizabeth Robinson's classes.

Elizabeth Robinson and Helen Filkey ought to be good friends. For one thing, they both live in Chicago. Both are Olympic girl stars and both have come up through the same kind of experiences, as regular Jills-of-all-sports.

Miss Filkey has been in amateur athletics for several years now. She has seen some champions come and go, but she runs with the same old speed and manages to keep on cutting off seconds. She bettered her own world mark by one-fifth of a second in the 80-meter hurdles of the Central Amateur Athletic Union meet, in June, by making the distance in 12 2-5 seconds.

Helen first took up athletics to improve her health. She never cared for girls' games. She much preferred swimming, tennis, hockey, roller skating, bicycle riding, and the like. But even these things didn't satisfy her. She started to run races, jump, and hurdle with the boys.

She was succeeding remarkably well, too. So well that Tom Eck, the veteran trainer of athletes and coach at Chicago University, heard of her. He organized a track and field team from among the girls in high schools and the recreational centers of the city.

PRETTY soon Helen was headlined in the papers. She was only 15 at the time. But she tumbled records along the cinder path, cleaned up everywhere she went, and asked Coach Eck what to do next.

For recreation she danced.

This was back in 1923. People wondered how long she could keep going. Luck usually changed some time, they said. Since Helen had started to race at 15, older people who never had had the wings of Mercury bound to their feet thought that she might get tired pretty soon.

But she hasn't. You still see her name in the sports headlines and her face, as happy and pretty as ever, is more than at home in the press now. Since there aren't any other records in her special field for her to beat, she betters her own.

Helene Madison, who is another member of the youthful "fast" set, makes her best speed in water.

Helene, who is a 17-year-old high school girl from Seattle, Wash., established a new world's record of 1 minute 8 1-5 seconds in the 100-meter free-style finals of the National Amateur Athletic Union at Long Beach, in June.

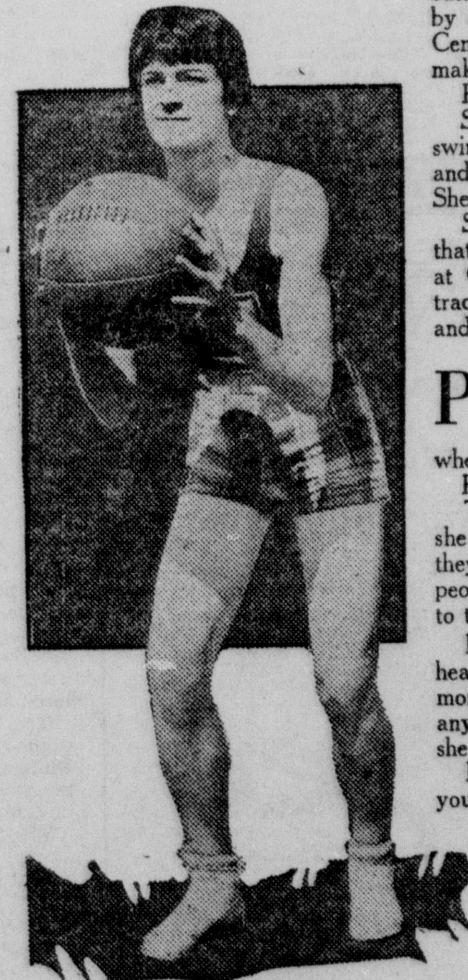

Miss Madison has been making her splash in the world for several months, though. She kept busy during the indoor season by equaling the 50-meter free-style mark and setting new records for the 100 yards, 100 meters, 220 yards and 500 meters.

There have been other girl athletes whose swiftness scored, of course. And there will be new ones cropping up right along. Records are being made only to be broken now.

Not a girl champion admits that she competes for any other reason than fun. They all say that they like to feel themselves "go."

They smile a little sadly at the restricted field of competition which was open to their mothers and grandmothers. They couldn't enter competitions like this. The best they could manage was an angel food cake for the county fair, or maybe a pair of embroidered pillow cases. "Nice" girls didn't run, they were told.

But their daughters have come a long distance in the last few years. And they have come fast, too.

Babe Didrickson... perhaps the greatest all-round girl athlete... She excels at basketball, baseball, football, golf, swimming and diving, archery, boxing, tennis... and holds world's records in the javelin and baseball throws.

Dallas, comes from Chicago. Family pride entered her in her first exhibition. Her rise came in a few months, just like Stella Walsh's.

Betty Robinson's older sister came to the offices of Roy Davis, secretary of the Central Amateur Athletic Union, one day and asked for a registration card.

Then she hesitated. She wanted to register Betty, but she was afraid that family pride might have magnified a certain running feat of Betty's.

"My kid sister can run 50 yards in six seconds. Is that any good?" she asked.

"Good!" exclaimed Davis. "Why, my gosh, that's record time."

Elizabeth was entered in the Bankers' meet in Chicago. But she failed to appear at the mark in the early heats.

Nobody knew her anyway, so nobody gave her another thought.

But just as the Bankers were taking the mark for the finals, Elizabeth came. A very slim, very shy little girl slipped up to the starter and told him she was ready to run. He looked at her. She was wearing tennis shoes. And she wasn't dressed in a running suit. Her clothes would hamper her.

But the B. W. A. C. coach felt sorry for her. It was late at night. The child had come clear across the city to run. The coach withdrew an entry, made room for Betty.

IN the 220-yard dash Miss Walsh broke the tape at 25.4 seconds, fully 15 yards ahead of her nearest rival. She dashed the century in the record time of 11.1 seconds, hard pressed by Betty Johnson of Chicago, who formerly held the national title.

Her new broad jump world mark measured 18 feet 9 3-8 inches.

Miss Walsh believes that women are better sports than men. She herself has never had an opportunity to display the sportsmanship which goes with defeat. Instead there is always a crowd of girls who "also ran" waiting to shake hands with her.

"They are so nice about it. They really mean it when they tell me they're glad I won," the dark-eyed Polish girl says. "I never feel excited. I think that girls are more likely to be excited than men are, though. Maybe it's because we haven't been running as long as they have. As a rule, girls do make more noise about things."

When Stella finishes her course at business college, which she is carrying along with her job as a stenographer and her running practice, she will have enough credits for high school graduation. Then she is going to college. She is only 19, you see.

"I'm going to study physical education and learn everything I can," she explains. "When I'm through I'm going to teach other girls."

Meantime she has her eye on Clara, for she firmly believes that the Walsh family will soon have another champion.

MILDRED DIDRICKSON, commonly known as "Babe," would lead the women athletes if Stella hadn't reached the goal first. Babe chalked up two new world records and landed a second in a third event down in Dallas at the women's meet.

Babe is only 17. But she took both the javelin and baseball throws with the skill of a veteran. She established record figures of 133 feet and 6 inches for the javelin, and 268 feet 10 1/2 inches for the baseball.

Babe is glad that she lives in the days of speedy women. She isn't the type who could have sat on a cushion and sewed a fine seam. She has to be out kicking and throwing.

To be a Healthy Woman watch your Bowels!

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients. It doesn't sicken or weaken you. No restrictions of habit or diet are necessary while taking it. But its action is thorough. It carries off the sour bile and poisonous waste. It does everything you want it to do. It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow.

When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all druggists keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know who Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!—Adv.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
The best football team on the coast this fall may not belong to the elite Pacific coast conference... Who do we mean? Why, none other than little St. Mary's college, Oakland, coached by Edward "Slip" Madigan, formerly of Notre Dame... The Moraga Marauders mowed down the West Coast Army 32 to 9, the same margin as Stanford's triumph over the soldiers... The fans saw Madigan's team only in the first quarter... after that it was second, third and fourth raters who continued the assault... You'll hear more later of Mack Stennett, the coast's leading candidate for All-American honors... Bud Toscani, halfback with the swivel hips... Bab Barrett, 200-pounds-of full-back packed around a 10-second frame... and Toby Hunt, a better tackle than St. Mary's All-American George Ackermann last year.

RUMBLINGS OF HERD
Ory Mohler is the name he goes by. He's a sophomore in the University of Southern California, where they let the quarterback run with the ball... With the whirligig gyrations and pile-driving rushes of Morton ("Devil May") Kaer, Morley Drury, Don Williams and Russ Saunders still fresh in their minds, fanciers of Trojan football already are making predictions that Howard Jones' youthful quarterback will become the greatest ball-carrier that ever stamped with the Thundering Herd... Kaer, Drury, Williams and Saunders—those are football names to conjure with, especially on the Pacific coast. Mention any of them around a Notre Dame man, too, and he'll know whom you are talking about.

But now Jones is coming up with another, a kid who did his prep at Alhambra high school. "Mohler" has a sophomore rating scholastically; grid fanciers are saying that he's a post-graduate in the art of running with a football.

DEBUTED IN TOUGH SPOT
He was a star last fall with the Trobades, U. S. C.'s fresh squad. Jones thought so much of him even then that they packed him along on the trip to Chicago to meet Notre Dame. He sat through the entire contest at the Trojan mentor's elbow... So when Mohler made his varsity debut a few days ago, all Los Angeles and Southern California was expecting something big. He didn't disappoint.

Jones rushed him into the opening contest in a tough spot. One good look was all he took to size up the situation. His first job was to catch a spiraling punt on the dead run. A moment later he had scored his first touchdown... Whether Mohler touches through for a score every time he carries the ball or whether he is stopped at the line of scrimmage, coast fans are going to marvel at him. His very manner is brilliant. They say he's a born ball-carrier.

A FEW GOOD TIPS
And while we're on Pacific coast football, let me tell you of a few things I have learned:

The main strength of both Southern California and Stanford lies in their backfields, with Stanford apparently having the better material. California has the best team it has had since 1925. That's the observation of "Slip" Madigan, former Notre Dame man and now coach of St. Mary's.

And "Pop" Warner says the Golden Bears present a stronger attack this year than last, when they had Benny Lom, the Jewish triple-threat sensation.

Stanford and St. Mary's each beat West Coast Army by a 32 to 0 score—but they don't meet later on. That's proof, though, that Madigan may produce another of those unbeaten elevens.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Alonso Stagg has two coaches' sons on his squad this year... One is Pat Page Jr., son of the Indiana mentor who played under Stagg years ago... the other is Paul Stagg, son of Alonso himself... Gene Momans lost two holes, "twas said at Merion, due to the whirling of movie cameras... Babe says he would have won the homerun honors this year, too, if he had not hurt his finger and his back... Mickey Cochran followed Bobby Jones around at Merion... "It's just like trying to win four pennants in a row," said the Mick... It didn't have to rain at all to make that Sharkey-Campolo bout all wet... Bobby Jones says he will play golf now "for fun"... somehow we did get the idea that he was pretty serious about that game during the last couple of years.

APPOINT CAPTAINS
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 10.—Naval academy football officials are naming a captain before each game this season. Late in the current campaign an election may be held. Always before at the academy a captain has been chosen before the start of the season.

DONS OPEN CONFERENCE SEASON King Defeats Hernandez Decisively

URBAN HAS OFF NIGHT. SUFFERS HEAVY BEATING

Henry T. Foust's Orange County Athletic club was doing business at the same old stand today, and the cigar-smoking promoter was planning more and better boxing for the clients who moved back into the arena when it reopened last night.

Although plenty of seats were unoccupied, the turnout was encouraging in view of the circumstances, and both Foust and his 40 and 8 society associates are looking to the future with increased hope.

The main event found little Urban Hernandez, popular Placentia lightweight, making the poorest fight of his brief but cyclonic career and losing by knockout furrows a decision to the blond veteran from the harbor district, Richie King.

Hernandez left all his fight in the gymnasium. He looked tired and wan and fought the way he looked. He made a flash in the second round, almost stopping King with one of his "old-time" punches right to the whiskers, but the pace to suit his own fancy. He won all of the eight spasms except the second.

Lieut. Jack Kennedy, the state's "third man," officiated in his usual faultless fashion. Unhappily, Kennedy thumbed his fingers in the direction of King's corner after each round. The lieutenant couldn't be wrong if he tried. King was always far ahead.

King won the first heat by a slight margin and opened the second by flooring Hernandez for no count. The punch stung Hernandez into action momentarily. The Mexican chased King about the ring and more than made up for the knockdown with a flurry of fists that left King groggy and ready for the finishing touch when the bell rang.

King Recovers Quickly
The intermission brought the veteran back to life. He was as fresh as a sophomore when the third opened. Hernandez simply couldn't touch off the spark that usually characterizes his work. He was slow and listless. His timing and judgment were poor, his footwork pitiful.

Urban can do much better. Either he had too much condition—or none at all. Tony Moreno and Johnny Gonzales "shot the works" in the six-round semi, flashing one of the warmest engagements of the entire season. Moreno won Referee Benny Whitman's decision which could have been questioned. Gonzales, off to a fast start and dropping Tony with a left to the chin in the last round, deserved at least a draw.

Charles, Hiebs Draw
Tim Charles and Gus Hiebs, heavyweights, outdid even Moreno and Gonzales. The big fellows slapped each other with everything but Promoter Foust's sombrero. Whitman smartly calling it a draw. Hiebs had Charles on the floor once. Adam Moraga decisioned George Starr decisively and Tony Flores stopped Cliff Henigar after Henigar won the first round. The show had everything to recommend it and deserved better patronage, although 40 and 8 committee-men issued a statement today to the effect that all was well and the turnout as large as expected.

MOTORCYCLE HILL CLIMB DATE FIXED
Plans for a new hill climb, better in every way than the old Capistrano contest which used to thrill thousands of motor fans each year, were announced today by officials of the Orange County Motorcycle club.

The race will be conducted Sunday, October 19, on a 600-foot hill, longer and considerably steeper than the old Capistrano "mountain," located on Orange County Park Acres road, about four miles from Irvine park.

MACK'S BIG HAPPY FAMILY—CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD

STANFORD AND MINNESOTA TO VIE TOMORROW

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 10.—The Cardinal menace to Minnesota's football aspirations—the Stanford football squad—arrived here today for an intercollegiate clash.

When "Pop" Warner's red-jerseyed warriors run onto Memorial stadium tomorrow, Coach Fritz Cypser's proteges will face their second intercollegiate game within a week. Last Saturday Vanderbilt, Southern football leader, defeated the Gophers 33 to 7.

Stanford worked out this morning on the grounds of the Lafayette club where the squad will stay. They are expected to have a final light workout this afternoon at the stadium to familiarize themselves with the field. The Gophers will take a secret practice late today.

LATHROP GRIDMEN SCRIMPAGE ORANGE

The Julia C. Lathrop junior high school varsity football team met the Orange high school varsity third string in a scrimmage at Orange yesterday, which ended in a scoreless tie. What this year's team lacks in weight it makes up in a fast, smooth working backfield, Charlie Holmes and Louie Cottrell making a good combination.

Berg Favored To Defeat Petrolle

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Jackie (Kid) Berg, English fighter, ruled a slight favorite today to defeat Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," in their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. The two fighters have met twice before, the first bout ending in a draw, and the second going to Petrolle by a knockout.

Saint 'Cees' Defeated By Wilson, 13-0

BY JACK PEGUES
The Santa Ana Class C football team lost to the Woodrow Wilson high school at Long Beach, 13-0, yesterday.

The game was a scoreless tie until the last period when Wetly, Wilson halfback, got the ball on a short kick and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Lane, end, converting.

The next kickoff set Santa Ana back in the shadow of its own goal posts and on an attempted pass, the beach end, Zelsenien, intercepted the ball and accounted for Wilson's second touchdown. The Saints suffered a severe shakeup in their line when Alfred Allen, regular guard, received an injury to his back which kept him out of the game. George Plisk, Harold Daley and Bruce Harnois proved a strong combination in the Saint backfield, Kring and Maret working well in the tackle positions. The Santa Ana eleven will play Tustin Thursday at Tustin.

IRISH TO DEDICATE STADIUM SEATING 55,000 TOMORROW; THEY'RE NOMADS NO LONGER

The stadium, which is to be dedicated with tomorrow's Navy game, has space for 264 newspapermen. Twenty years ago that would have been a big crowd for a football game at Notre Dame.

At any rate it is nice to know that the South Bend Ramblers have at last got a place to park their dogs and enemy halfbacks, and if they don't wind up calling it Knute Rockne stadium there is no justice in this break of all possible worlds. Rockne is the cornerstone of whatever Notre Dame is or hopes to be in a football way.

STRIBLING SPURNS $50,000 OFFER TO BATTLE SHARKEY

By HYPE IGOE
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—When Billy Stribling came to these United States, after spilling Phil Scott on his ear, he challenged the entire world, declaring that there wasn't a bloke on earth that he feared or wouldn't fight.

Now it appears that there was just one exception and Willie didn't discover him until last evening. He will not fight Jack Sharkey under any circumstances, not for glory nor glistening gold. He turned down a cool offer of $50,000, flat, in one hat, in the boot, in the kick, well any place he cared to park it. It seems that Damon Runyon went about the business of matching Sharkey and Stribling for the annual New York Christmas fund, the bout to take place in Madison Square Garden December 8.

Sharkey agreed. Anything to help out the kiddies—and of course, little Jack Sharkey. He'd take 25 per cent of the gate. Then Runyon got Strib on the telephone in Miami. "Will you take $50,000 flat? The gate will go to a quarter of a million."

"Well, Sharkey isn't a drawing card. We can't go, not even for $50,000, which I must say, Mister Runyon, isn't half bad."

"Half bad," screamed Runyon. "Isn't it Sharkey's punch and not his popularity of which you are fearful?"

THOMPSON'S MANAGER FAILS TO CORRECTLY FORECAST THE FUTURE
What says these managers of fighters are. Especially in the welterweight class. Three welterweight champions, carefully guided through non-title fights, licked and most painfully deprived of their titles in little more than a year in supposed "easy-money" bouts. Somebody ought to open a school for managers and coach them in the elementary principles of sucker-picking. They don't understand the fine points of it at all, at all. The moment they become careless, and let their "asset" box some chosen sap without making said sap come in a pound overweight, the sap turns around and licks the chap.

Here Young Jack Thompson, who once knocked out Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, in a non-title bout, and who licked Jackie Fields in a title bout after twice losing to Jackie in non-title, overweight affairs, has been out-pointed for the title by Tommy Freeman. Thompson's manager should have known better, th' poor sap! He engineered Thompson into the title by making a sap of Rooney, and here he goes and lets the manager of an old timer like Freeman show him up. It's a sad tale, that of Jack Thompson's manager. He got just exactly $14.85 for his fighter for beating Fields in the title fight at Detroit, and here he has tossed off his "asset" without cashing in for more than ham and bean money. Yes, he matched Thompson against Fields, and to induce Jackie to let the third trip go as a real honest to goodness championship fight and draw a good gate, after Fields had licked Thompson twice, he consented to Shylcock terms. Thompson was to get $10,000 for fighting Fields, if lost, and only $2500 for expense money if he won. He won, and the expenses ate up all but the $14.85. After that Young Jack fought Young Corbett III in San Francisco and took the licking of his young life, but it wasn't a title affair. Young Corbett III had to come in a pound overweight, which kept the title safe.

TURNING THE TABLES
It was shortly after that that the sad part came in. Young Corbett's manager hustled around and got backing, and offered Thompson a guarantee of $65,000 in real money to fight Corbett again without making Corbett come in a pound overweight, with the title at stake. Thompson's manager flatly refused to accept. He was, very candid. "Thompson never will fight Corbett while I'm managing him," he said, "because I know Corbett can beat him. We've gotta make some money out of this championship. We can get $75,000 to fight McLarin in New York, and even if McLarin licks him he'll be $10,000 better off than if Corbett licks him. Meanwhile we can clean up nicely by taking on a few suckers." The first "sucker," as it happen-

TWO GEORGIA TEAMS INVADE EASTERN GRID

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Baseball tucked away until another spring, Eastern football takes on a decidedly businesslike air this week end, with two first class intercollegiate games on the books.

In addition to the cross-country tiffs, several worthy scraps are scheduled between intra-sectional rivals, notably Lafayette and Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., and New York university and Villanova in the Yankee stadium.

But it is the intercollegiate games, involving two of the south's major elevens and two of the east's finest, that are holding the football spotlight along the Atlantic seaboard this week. The first, and probably the best, of these is the Georgia-Yale game in the bowl at New Haven. The second, and a rip snorter in itself, is the Georgia Tech-Carnegie Tech battle at Pittsburgh.

Yale and Carnegie are slight favorites-Yale because of a wealth of brilliant backfield talent headed by the one and only Albie Booth, and Carnegie because of well balanced strength in both offense and defense.

Unless Villanova stages a remarkable comeback, N. Y. U. should win in the affair at the stadium. Army meets Swarthmore as a final test before the Harvard game Saturday.

Columbia, weak against Union last week, is expected to regain its form and win over Wesleyan.

BROWN IS ASSURED CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Newsboy Brown, veteran Los Angeles flyweight, was signed today for a championship fight next month with the winner of the Frankie Genaro-Midget Wolgast battle in New York October 17.

Brown was promised a chance at the title by Madison Square Garden officials, who hold options on all three fighters. The newsboy has defeated both Genaro and the champion, the latter when he made his Pacific Coast appearance several weeks ago.

MEET VIKINGS OF LONG BEACH AT POLY FIELD

With the world series safely stuffed in mothballs, the U.S.C. Trojans shipped off to Washington and Stanford back east, a whole swarm of junior colleges over Southern California begin the up-mill battle for the 1930 championship tomorrow afternoon with Coach Bill Cook and his Santa Ana Don in the midst of the excitement in a torrid game with the Long Beach junior college Vikings scheduled for Poly field at 2:30.

The old dope bucket chatter is distinctly out of place in this high powered jaycee confederation because the strong teams cropping up this year are conquering new worlds each week. Time was when the junior colleges were the dorms for all the freshman teams of four-year colleges and even high schools could put up a strong fight against them. But those days are gone forever, as the saying goes, and the Santa Ana Dons are one of the foremost teams in the new era.

Terms Shape Up Evenly
Considering the relative merits of Long Beach and Santa Ana, a tossed coin would be very effective. The Dons have the advantage of three practice games as compared to one for Long Beach whereas the Vikings are larger in numbers. After cutting the squad, Coach Oak Smith still has 40 men in suit while Coach Cook has had pressed to find that many able fiddlers at one time.

The powerful line that won the Southern California championship for Long Beach last year graduated nearly intact to the junior college. Woodrow Wilson added Bill Soeberg and Milo Sagerhorn to the regulars. Santa Ana, on the other hand, lost virtually its entire line of last year's championship team and this has been replaced by a forward wall composed of men from all parts of the state.

If Wayne ("Galloping") Garlock and Clarence Hapes are going good, the two backfields will be on a par. Besides Hapes, the 220-pound full-back and Garlock, second all-conference quarterback last year, the Dons will have Melvin Beatty and Franklin Van Meter as halfbacks with Leonard Natland, Elmore Lord, Joe Rodriguez, Vernon Schuppner, Bert Wilkins, Ervin Watkins and possibly Emmett Seacord to use against the Beachmen.

Vikings Hit By Injuries
Considering injuries, the Padres are distinctly lucky, unless the terrible tale of Long Beach cripples is all applesauce. According to Viking scribes, no less than six regulars are suffering from something or other. Joe Forbes has a broken bone in his foot. "Chubby" Crane, fullback, and Bob Parke, quarterback, have trick knees, Kordover Vance, pillar of strength at center, has water on the knee, Ralph Dunn, guard, has a bruised shoulder and Cliff Edwards a sprained ankle.

Advices from Long Beach today, however, were that Forbes would be in the starting lineup, either at fullback or left half instead of King. Forbes is the best kicker in the conference as well as a powerful line plunger and if Coach Oak Smith can get him into shape his chances for victory will be enhanced tremendously. The plan is to dope Forbes' foot with cocaine to deaden all pain.

With the exception of Howard Rose and Kioshi Shigewake, fullbacks, Santa Ana is physically fit

BEARS BATTLE GAELS: TROJAN TEAM IN NORTH

BY VINCENT MAHONEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10. — Though Pacific Coast football honors will not be won tomorrow, there is a likelihood that two major teams will see their chances go glimmering.

At Berkeley, the California Bears, who took a 16-0 lacing last week at the hands of the Washington State Cougars face the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's.

The Irishmen being nonconference the outcome will not technically affect California's rating among the coast's so-called "Big Ten," but another defeat for California would undoubtedly militate against the Bears' chances to get the bid to represent the west at the Tournament of Roses game, even should they manage to battle to a tie for conference leadership.

Gaels Point For Bears

"Skip" Madigan's team is pointed for California, while the Bears must play with an eye to the big game with Stanford. The Irish bring what has been called the hardest charging line in the west, half a dozen fast, experienced backfield men, led by the versatile Fred Stennett and an enormous will to win.

Close observers feel that California has been brought along too slowly to stem the powerful and versatile Gael attack. It is expected that upwards of 60,000 will see the game.

At Pullman, Washington, "Babe" Hollingberry's "surprise package"—the great team that ran through California—faces a mountainous barrier in the "thundering herd" from Southern California.

Cougars Bid For Title

Should Hollingberry's bunch emerge to the good, it is hard to see how they can be headed as leading conference contenders. Talking on the "Herd" after last week's hard game at Berkeley is regarded, however, as quite an assignment.

The Trojans must stop Ellinggen, who completed 13 out of 15 passes against California for a total gain of 172 yards. On the other hand, the Cougars will meet a typical Jones line, with three "wonder" backs behind it in the person of Duffield, Musick and Mohler.

The pilgrimage of Stanford to Minneapolis to take on Minnesota is not regarded as an important milestone to the Cardinals, and cannot affect their conference rating.

Washington, after an encounter with Idaho today, will rest tomorrow in preparation for next week's "big game" with Oregon.

although several Padres have just been taken off the hospital list. This includes Hal Duhman, veteran end; Clarence Hapes, fullback; Wayne Guelack, quarter; Emmett Seacord, quarter, and several others with minor hurts. It is problematical if Seacord will get to play because of a bruised chest but if the going gets tough, Cook may send him in.

Long Beach Untested

Long Beach has played only one game this season, winning 26 to 0 over Ventura last week. As the caliber of the Ventura eleven is unknown here, the achievement of the flaming black and white Vikings is what you care to call it. Santa Ana has weathered three jousts, winning from Chaffey 20 to 0, losing to the U.S.C. Frosh 7 to 0, and dropping a game to Menlo junior college last week 20 to 0.

Not a week date appears on the entire Don schedule from tomorrow until Thanksgiving day. Compton comes to Santa Ana next Saturday and then Pasadena, Phoenix, Arizona, Glendale, Los Angeles and Fullerton follow in order.

Other jaycoes games will bow in importance to the Los Angeles and Compton fray at Compton. The Tartars held the Trojan frosh to a scoreless tie and Los Angeles defeated the La Verne varsity, 26 to 0. Glendale plays Fullerton and Pasadena has a bye.

In Santa Ana's line against Long Beach, the starting whistle will find Hal Duhman and Joe Duncan at ends, Marry Clayton and Mike Santa Cruz at tackles, Kermit and Curt McCoy at guards and Captain Al Kluthe at center. Kluthe and Duncan are veterans from Anaheim, both McCoy and Santa Cruz came from Orange. Clayton is a former Saint and Duncan hails from Nevada. A second team line would find "Toby" Groenow and Bill Harkleroad at ends, Gil Kluthe and Harry Lake at tackles, Philip Martin and Wayne Bartholomew or Gene Olsen at guards and either Paul Bruce or Bartholomew at center. All these men should see action.

CRITZ, LINDSTROM THROUGH AS GIANTS?

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Among baseball gossip today was the story that Hughie Critz has failed as a second baseman with the Giants and that Freddie Lindstrom is not in the good graces of the powers that be on the Polo Grounds patrol.

The fact that the Giants have bought Johnny Vergez, 19-year-old Italian youngster who has been a sensation at third base with the Oakland team, lends credence to the Lindstrom part of the story.

SPORTS Through Edgren's EYES

By Robert Edgren

ed very unfortunately for Young Jack Thompson, was the Cleveland veteran, Tommy Freeman. Of course on paper Tommy didn't figure to have a chance, as Thompson is a pretty good welterweight with a record. Tommy has been a good sturdy fighting man, and his record is a sturdy fighting man's record. It isn't sensational. He has knocked out a lot of other fairly good fighters, has won a bunch of decisions, none of his victims being quite of championship class. He has been a busy fighter, taking them as they come and making no fuss over it. And he has a good chin, because only one knockout has been scored against him. Joe Dundee did that four years ago, when he could still fight.

But the sturdy fighting man, not brilliantly clever but able to stick out a useful left hand, took on Thompson just as if Thompson was another palooka. He fought aggressively, weathered Thompson's occasional flurries, came up from a knockdown to go on fighting, and in the end tired the champion out and took the fight away from him.

CORBETT III LOGICAL CONTENDER

It's hard to know just what kind of a champion Tommy Freeman will be or how long he'll last. Maybe he'll go on fighting sturdily and not be bothered with trying to protect his title "asset" by every trick and subterfuge, like other champions. But that's almost too much to expect in these days.

One of Freeman's first challengers is Young Corbett III. Corbett liked Fields without getting the title, and liked Thompson before Thompson was champion, and very decisively after he was champion, and as Corbett is a real welterweight he deserves some consideration. The only trouble with Corbett is that he's too tough in that old ring. He goes ahead steadily and fights get him considerably messed up. That's why he was unpopular with Fields and Thompson and their managers, and why he is likely to be unpopular among the welter-title holders until old age compels him to retire. Young Corbett has made a fairly good fortune, licking champions, and will have something to retire on. Young Jack Thompson, who tossed off a $65,000 purse for fighting Corbett, and a possible $75,000 for a title fight with McLarnin, still has a little ham and bean money, but his pickings as champion have been lean.

Maybe Young Corbett's manager can dig up the $65,000 backing to offer Tommy Freeman for a right. Tommy ought to make something out of the old title while it lasts. (Copyright, 1930, The Bell Synd., Inc.)

350 Attend Joint P.-T. A. Session At High School

SPEAKER SAYS PARENTS MUST AID TEACHERS

A crowd of more than 350 persons attended the joint meeting of the junior college and high school Parent-Teacher associations at the high school last night for the first meeting of the year, setting a record in attendance at such affairs.

Those present were rewarded with a fine entertainment program and a most interesting and instructive address by Dr. Fred R. Woellner, associate professor of civic education of the University of California at Los Angeles. Musical numbers included instrumental and vocal selections and two numbers by the Mothers' chorus under the direction of Mrs. Frances Beeson.

Mac O. Robbins presided at the meeting last night in the absence of Dr. George Warner, president, who was confined to his home with an attack of influenza. Robbins outlined the program for the year, calling for meetings in December, January, March and May. The sessions of the joint association will be held in the evening so that the fathers may participate in the work of the organization.

Dr. Woellner, who is regarded as one of the ablest speakers in the state, held the attention of his audience closely throughout the address he made last night on the subject "The Triple Alliance," referring to children, parents and teachers. He commented particularly in a preface to his address on the number in the audience and the large proportion of men, and characterized it as the greatest turnout of men at a parent-teacher meeting he had ever witnessed.

"Fathers are particularly important in the work of this alliance," he declared, "especially at the age of 12 when the boy is apt to turn from his mother to his father. There is too much woman domination in present-day education. Of the teachers in the United States, 87 per cent are women. The country needs more men to take their part in the program of the development of youth as teachers and fathers. In other countries and in the past in our own country, men dominated education. Mothers should do less and fathers more in education. This is natural, proper and necessary. The best security for wealth is training by fathers so that their sons shall have upright character and know how to handle wealth rightly when they arrive at the time it shall be theirs.

"The happiest teachers are those who know when to kiss and when to punish a child. Teaching is the most strenuous work in the world and many teachers are forced from their profession because of nervous breakdowns resulting from the strain of their work. Parents should give teachers more support, especially when the teacher is wrong. This will help discipline and respect for authority.

"More prodigal spending is needed for education in this country. The nation spent over $2,600,000,000 for cigarettes last year. This is more than the bill for education.

The wiser parents see the folly of the younger generation, which has more power and more opportunities than their ability can handle properly. Give the child what is necessary. If an auto is necessary, let the child have it, but make him earn the money

ORIGINAL PUTT-PUTT COURSE

Accidents will happen and here's one of them, the original miniature golf course that Garnet Carter (right) started near Chattanooga just to give summer hotel guests something to do—and which led to an industry that brought him a half million dollars. The bridge above is one of the trick hazards on this course and below is shown one of the gnomes that decorate the holes.

for the gas, so that he may appreciate it. Parents and teachers should unite for the good of the child. The child does not know what is good for him and he should be trained to give the right answers to life's questions.

"Give greater liberties to the child when it is able to comprehend and handle them. Too much liberty will spoil a child and too little will make it a weakling and coward. The older generation was too strict and the present generation is not strict enough. Parents need to strike a happy medium in the training of their children.

"Periodically parents, teachers and children should come together and re-examine their expectations and their contributions to the common cause of education and character training."

REALTOR WHO INVENTED BABY GOLF RETIRES AFTER MAKING HALF MILLION IN 24 MONTHS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 10.—Folks, meet the man who made miniature golf pay on a full-sized scale.

He's Garnet Carter, a Chattanooga real estate developer, and he's just retired from the business after having cleaned up a cool half million dollars with an invention that he says was "just an accident."

The other day, after making more than $300,000 on his "accident," he sold the trade mark "Tom Thumb" that cost him $100, a manufacturing plant valued at $10,000 and a number of patents applied for to W. H. Robinson of Philadelphia, a pickle manufacturer, for $200,000 cash.

"How did I do it?" Carter replies. "I'll be hecked if I know. I just stumbled into it and it seemed that the money started pouring in before I knew what had happened. And it just kept coming."

25,000 of Them Now

Carter's Fairland Golf Course on Lookout Mountain near here is the original from which came the 25,000 that have since popped up like mushrooms all over the United States. On these the U. S. Department of Commerce places an estimated value of $125,000,000, exclusive of the real estate.

From October 20 to 22, this course will be the scene of the first national Tom Thumb Golf association tournament, with hundreds of pea wee golfers from all over the United States competing. At least $7500 in cash will be offered as prizes to men and women players. Elimination tournaments have been held in many cities to pick contestants, but anyone may come to Chattanooga and enter the competition.

There will also be a $10,000 national open tournament in Chicago, sponsored by the National

BOND PROJECT GIVEN BACKING OF POST HERE

Action was taken endorsing the $200,000 bond issue for veterans' homes and farms, known as proposition No. 1 on the ballot in the general election, and committee chairmen for the ensuing year were announced last night at the business session of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion following the monthly dinner, by Commander Hunter Leach. This was the first meeting at which Leach has presided.

During the session members of the organization had a lot of fun and put the new president officer in a "tough spot" with a series of motions and arguments concerning priority in connection with a motion made by Jules Markel to have a committee appointed to dispose of the Legion building as soon as possible. The motion finally carried and Commander Leach appointed a committee composed of Stanley M. Reinhaus, Maurice Enderle, James Irvine Jr., Ed Kolbe, adjutant of the post, and himself as commander. The subject has long been a bone of contention with the organization.

Plans for the Armistice day celebration at Anaheim were discussed and a committee composed of Gene Douglas, chairman; Jules Markel, William Penn, Otto Jacobs, A. B. Hardcastle and all members of the post from Iowa, is making arrangements for entry of a float in the parade. The parade this year is to feature various states and the Santa Ana post has been assigned Iowa.

In connection with the bond issue for the fund for veterans it was pointed out that there is no cost to the taxpayers, as the bond interest and payments are made by veterans on an installment basis in paying for the property, which is purchased by the veterans welfare board with the money realized from the sale of the bonds. It was also stated that the measure has been endorsed in the platform of the four political parties in the state, and is generally approved by everyone familiar with the provisions of the law. Legionnaires have pamphlets on the

BEER, NOT DRINKABLE

Beer, beer everywhere, but not a drop to drink. That's the predicament in which spectators found themselves when prohibition agents destroyed eight 2000-gallon vats and 46 barrels filled to the brim with real lager at a Chicago brewery said to be owned by Bugs Moran, gang chieftain. Note foaming liquid gushing from the holes.

LAUNDRY WILL PUT BUILDING ON SOUTH MAIN

Erection of a one-story building by the Careful laundry in the 1500 block on South Main street will get under way about February 15, it was announced today by W. F. Croddy, local realtor, who sold the laundry the site.

The structure will have a frontage of 100 feet on Main street. It will be of brick construction.

The deal for the sale of the site was closed this week. The property was acquired from Oscar Roenbaum, of San Juan Capistrano.

The laundry is located at 620 East Sixth street at the present time.

According to Croddy, several other deals are pending in the same vicinity, with the prospect that a number of substantial buildings will get under way early in 1931.

DR. STADTMULLER WILL SPEAK HERE

Dr. Ellen S. Stadtmuller, state chairman of child hygiene and physical education and member of the state board of health, will give an address here next Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A. building, it was announced today.

Active in Y.W.C.A. and Parent-Teacher association work, Dr. Stadtmuller will be welcomed here by both organizations in this city. All persons interested in child welfare are urged to attend the meeting at which Dr. Stadtmuller will speak.

ENGINEER SPEAKS AT L. B. CONVENTION

H. Clay Kellogg, civil engineer, formerly of Santa Ana, now residing in Garden Grove, addressed the members of the California Sewage Works association convening under the auspices of the League of Municipalities, yesterday afternoon at the Breakers hotel, Long Beach.

His address was regarding the sewage sludge and fertilizer in the interest of water conservation of sewage.

He stated he had created a demand for sludge as a fertilizer far in excess than what can be supplied from the sewage disposal plants now treating sewage. Mr. Kellogg has turned what has been a problem to the sanitary engineer into a successful economic business enterprise. In doing this he has made the possibilities of water conservation of sewage, greater than they have ever been in the past. He stated that now, after having shown the value of the volatile solids of sewage, the part left in the conservation plan is the distribution of the sewage effluent.

He urged the sanitary engineer to consider Southern California's future in designing sewerage works and to bear in mind that the need of the finished effluent of sewage for irrigation purposes is far greater than the cost angle at the present scarcity and price of irrigation water.

Today members of the association went to Catalina Island as guests of the city of Long Beach.

"More prodigal spending is needed for education in this country. The nation spent over $2,600,000,000 for cigarettes last year. This is more than the bill for education.

Parker Home Was Scene of All-Day Session

The home of Mrs. Nellie Parker on Yorba street was gay with an array of Halloween decorations yesterday when members of the Past President's club of the Daughters of Union Veterans gathered there for an all-day session. Luncheon was served early in the day at a table centered with a lovely bouquet of pom-pom dahlias.

Dahlias in vivid hues decked the living room, and were sent from the gardens of Mrs. Cary Smith. Members spent the afternoon in a social time while busy with fancy work.

Those present other than Mrs. Parker were Mesdames Floss La Tourette, Cary Smith, Esther Gardner, Maude Sutton, Margaret Robertson, Eva Bell, Louane Leach, Emma Chapman and the Misses Minnie Cowan and Bertha Bell.

Members will hold their next session with Mrs. Margaret Robertson.

Flying Needle Club Has Enjoyable All-Day Meeting

Halloween in all of its varied details was represented at a delightful party of yesterday when Miss Verena Bailey was hostess to members of the Flying Needle Club, entertaining at an all-day session in her home, 1041 West Sixth street.

Luncheon was served early in the day at a prettily appointed table centered with a slant-eyed pumpkin. Place cards evidenced the chosen motif, and served also as score pads for the diversion of bunks which followed.

As a result of the game of the afternoon, Mrs. F. W. Bergendorff won first prize and Mrs. Bernard Snee was consoling. Mrs. Bergendorff was fortunate also in scoring high in a witch-drawing contest.

Mrs. E. Wheeler of Colton was a guest of the day. Members present other than the hostess, Miss Bailey, were Mesdames Errol Bailey, Frank Brown, F. W. Bergendorff, Delbert Johnson, William Knitz, Bernard Snee and Adolph Erickson.

"The Barn" Opening Was Success of Last Evening

A glowy little fire whose radiant cheer was rivalled by scarlet berries in a near-by basket, beamed a welcome to Community Players and guests who thronged "The Barn" last night when the first meeting of the season was held. Many were those who responded to the general invitation to attend meetings, and it is expected that the "open house" policy will prove a popular one.

Juanita Wright Fletcher, a member of the social committee, presided, and introduced Mona Summers Smith who followed with a worthwhile summary of the life and works of Oliver Goldsmith, the author of the play now under preparation, "She Stoops to Conquer."

Glady Simpson Shafer is directing and members of the cast taking part last night were Mabel Pruitt, Mrs. J. U. Vlau, Adrian Marks, Jo Peterson, Arthur Collins, Bob White, Austin Lawless, Duncan Harnois and Harold Fuquay. Others in the cast are Margaret Gaebe, Earl Fraser and Leon Eckles.

A most interesting social time followed the program of the evening, and an appetizing refreshment course was served at a late hour. The committee responsible for so successful a session included Miss Edith Cornell, Doris Robbins, Florence McClay and Juanita Wright Fletcher.

State Convention Was Attended By Local Delegates

Having returned from the state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held in Oakland last week, Mrs. Victor Montgomery, past president of the division, and Miss Gertrude Montgomery, past state corresponding secretary, were today enthusiastically welcomed by many features of the annual affair.

Election of officers took place at one of the first sessions and Mrs. L. L. Strother of Fresno, wife of a prominent judge there, was chosen as president, succeeding Mrs. M. L. Stannard of Los Angeles. Mrs. Ray Steadman of Costa Mesa, was elected as state custodian of flags, although she was unable to attend the convention. Miss Vivian Conway of San Diego, was re-elected historian, and a historical board to collect data to be kept in her custody, was appointed.

Another committee was appointed to decide the amount which each of the various chapters should contribute toward the fun for burial purposes. Of equal importance was the appointing of a group to revise the present by-laws of the division. Three of the past presidents were given shoulder ribbons and feted as honorary leaders. Mrs. Montgomery was among these. The retiring executive board presented their president, Mrs. M. L. Stannard, with a Wedgewood sandwich tray, silver bound, and the division as a whole gave her a beautiful telephone hand-bag, studded with rhinestones. Miss Montgomery as corresponding secretary made the latter presentation.

The opening program, a feature of the first evening, was a musical and on the second evening members of the executive board were hosts at dinner, entertaining in the convention headquarters, the Oakland hotel, favors were tiny gold-enamelled pencils.

Luncheons, dances and other entertainments were included in the social program, with a "Historical Night," in charge of Miss Conway, concluding the interesting sessions. About 100 delegates and officers were in attendance.

Smedley Home Was Scene of Forum Club Party

Their first social gathering this year was a most pleasant occasion for members of the Forum club of the local high school, when they were entertained recently in the home of Miss Betty Smedley at 2102 North Ross street. Zinnias and other fall flowers decked the rooms.

SANTA ANA BUSINESS WOMEN ATTEND RECIPROCITY DINNER

"Americans must themselves appreciate and support American art and artists if we are to receive the recognition we desire in European cultural centers," declared L. E. Behmer, well-known Los Angeles impresario who was principal speaker last night at a reciprocity dinner given by Anaheim Business and Professional Women and shared by all B. and P. W. clubwomen of Orange county.

"American music is really glorious, and we are now able to see the dawn of a new appreciation of our own composers and their work," he continued, pointing out that everyone should have faith in the culture and cultural achievements of our own artists, and show that faith by supporting their efforts.

His excellent talk was but one feature of the interesting program planned by Mrs. C. A. McCullah of the hostess organization, to show the development of interest in American music and musicians. An artistic setting was given the function in Anaheim Elks' club where baskets of autumn flowers vied with gleaming tapers and Japanese lanterns in lending brilliancy and color to the scene.

Artist Guests Each visiting club had been asked to bring two musical artists from its own community as honor guests, and these, with the club presidents, were introduced. Mrs. Marshall Northcross, president of Santa Ana B. and P. W. had the pleasure of presenting Cesare D. Cianfoni, both a musician and a composer of note, and Mrs. Zoe Summer, well-known teacher and musician of this city. There were many members of the local club present as well, to share the varied pleasures of the evening.

Musical Program The musical program centered in the artists and compositions securing prizes at the recent Orange county fair, and was prefaced by a short talk by Mrs. J. V. Kealey of Garden Grove, who had charge of this department at the fair. Catherine Anna McCullah gave an original piano solo, "Mazurka" winner of the silver cup, and Miss Laurel Nemeth of Los Angeles sang "Do Not Go My Love," prize-winning song by Louis Danz, prominent Anaheim composer who was one of the honored guests of the evening.

Other Speakers Walter David, editor of the "Music World," and Hans Thorston, editor of the "Pacific Coast Musician," were other interesting speakers on American composers and their work, while Roy Harris of Covina, who spent several years in Paris in the study of music, dwelt upon America's place in the cultural world, declaring that our country had passed through its infancy in music, and was now entering maturity. "We will be better understood and appreciated by the older civilization of Europe, if we make this a period of cultural growth," he stated.

Many Guests Nearly 200 reservations had been made for the event, over which Miss Ruth Taunton, president of the Anaheim club, presided. Miss Gertrude De Gelder, president of the county federation, was prominent among the special guests, who also included the Santa Ana president and her guests, Mrs. Summer and Mr. Cianfoni, Mrs. J. B. Handy, of Laguna Beach, and her artist-guest, Mrs. Armstrong, a reader; Mrs. McCoy of the Orange club, and her guest, Miss Engle; Miss Adams of the Fullerton club, and many others from all sections of the county.

Santa Ana members sharing the interesting evening, included in addition to Mrs. Northcross, Mrs. Thomas Douglas, Miss Alma Karlsson, Miss Damaris Beaman, Miss Louise Kaiser, Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mrs. Leslie Eckel, Miss Mabel Wiseman, Miss Lola Wilkinson, Mrs. Myrtle Robinson, Miss Martha Whitson, Mrs. Marjorie Joplin and Miss Juanita Snyder.

Farewell Party Was Lovely Event of Last Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Barker were hosts at a delightful affair last night, entertaining in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis White, who will leave soon to make their home in Brawley. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hall were asked to share the pleasures of the dinner hour with the hosts and honor guests, and a most delectable menu was served.

Yellow and orchid was the chosen color scheme of the evening, and was evidenced at dinner by the artistic bouquet centering the table, the glowing tapers and other appointments.

Later in the evening Miss Vivian Dressler of this city and Ray Roberts of Fullerton joined the three couples, and several games of bridge followed. Mr. Hall held high score and Miss Dressler was consoling.

Many Business Matters Were Discussed By University Women

Members, prospective members and guests of the Orange County Branch of the American Association of University Women met last night for their first fall meeting at the Young Women's Christian Association, Santa Ana. There were approximately 70 present.

Mrs. Harold Glron, president of the branch presided. All other officers and committee chairmen were called upon and introduced or asked for reports. In addition to the president, this year's officers are Miss Lillian Dickson, vice-president; Mrs. Ernest Byrne of Tustin, secretary; Miss Genevieve Humal, recording secretary; Miss Florence Lindblom, of Tustin, treasurer.

Directors include Miss Anna Trythall, Miss H. O. Ehlen, Mrs. Horace Scott and Mrs. Charles Brisco. An amendment was passed providing for the inclusion of the various committee chairmen on the executive board. They have been attending, in an unofficial capacity, the regular monthly meetings of the executive board. Committee chairmen were introduced and the names of their committee members as follows: Miss Mary Saffley, chairman of the education committee, composed of the Misses Helen Kirkland, Willa Posher, Mary Dunston, Mary Swass; Fellowships committee, Miss Anna Trythall, chairman, and the Mesdames John Tessimann, H. O. Ehlen, Robert Horn, Arthur Harbrough, T. B. Talbot, the Misses Lull Finley, Stella Yocum, Mrs. Charles Brisco, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, chairman of the hospitality committee, of which the members are: the Misses Ruth Rowland, Nancy Elder, Henrietta Foster, Enid Twist, Doris Schenck, Irene Catland, Nelle Bales, Marian Stull, Mable Miller, Dorothy Broadway, Lillian Kirkwood and the Mesdames Robert Northcross, D. L. Harpster, Herman Powell, A. J. McFadden, Mrs. Charles Brisco, chairman of the house committee, and her members, Mesdames O. L. Davidson, R. W. Hull, W. W. Perkins and Franzen.

The international relations chairman, Mrs. Loyal K. King, announced her members: Mrs. Moffett Rhodes, Mrs. Korff, and the Misses Madge Sproul and Marguerite Angus; Legislation chairman, Mrs. John Tessimann, and her committee, Mesdames A. A. Young, Angeline Courtney and the Misses Lida Crookshank, Joella Gowdy, and E. Kate Rea, Membership chairman, Mrs. Horace Scott, with Mesdames Ray Adkinson, Robert Easton, R. C. Patton, and the Misses Johanne Ehlers, Polly Todd, Martha Ehlen, Marcia Carmichael, Lois Wheeler; Press, Mrs. Robert Horn, chairman, and Mesdames Charles Robinson of Orange, C. A. Harvey of Anaheim, Arthur Yarbrough of Fullerton, Loyal K. King of Santa Ana, and the Misses Clara Carmichael of Garden Grove, Constance Cruickshank and Frances Knudson, Santa Ana, and Stella Yocum of Tustin; Program chairman, Mrs. Ralph Livenspire, and her committee, the Misses Mable Whiting, Mabel McFadden, Constance Cruickshank and Louise Young.

Mrs. Horace Scott announced the names of the following new members last night: Mesdames Esther Oliver, Mabel Budd, Anita Whitaker, Grace Lund, Vera Newcomer, Percy Davis, Horace Patton, Mildred Leurs, and the Misses Ruth Mueller, Deborah Elliott, Anna Gilles, and Lucy Maas.

Mrs. Loyal King reported on the Santa Barbara state convention preliminary to the program, on which Mrs. John Tessimann gave the first of a series of popular science lectures. She introduced the course as well as outlining the evolution and late revolutions in the field of astronomy. Mrs. Horace Scott will be the speaker next month.

A hostess committee served punch and wafers during a social hour which followed the meeting.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Business and Professional Women's club members have been notified that there will be no meeting next Monday because of the nationally observed holiday, Columbus day. Miss Nancy Elder, October chairman, has cancelled program plans for the day.

Quill Pen club members have been informed that the meeting on Tuesday night, October 14, will be held with Mrs. Herman Reuter, 1426 Fruit street, instead of with Mrs. S. E. Marshall as first announced. It will be a business session, and not open to guests. Each member is asked to be prepared to offer suggestions for the coming year's work, and for any changes which might prove beneficial to the club as a whole. These will be read anonymously, and discussed generally, according to the president, Mrs. Frank Was.

Mrs. Carl Mook, recently returned to the presidency of the League of Woman Voters, has called at the organization to the tours of the organization to be made next week, when various county institutions will be visited. All friends are invited to join the parties, and the schedule includes the county

Four Hostesses Join In Presenting First Of Party Series

Adding to the brilliancy of the early autumn social season, was the bridge luncheon with which Mrs. Edward M. Neale, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mrs. John E. Gowen and Mrs. Samuel M. Davis, yesterday introduced their contribution of two social functions to the week's calendar of interesting events.

The hospitality found its pleasant setting in the Neale home, whose great living room is always enjoyed by guests, partly for its literary atmosphere, induced by Mr. Neale's unusual collection of books, and partly by the genuine charm and friendliness of the home. For yesterday's party, the necessary touch of gayety and color was introduced through the flowers so lavishly used, an especially effective arrangement being the wide mantle which was completely banked with gorgeous blossoms.

For the luncheon tables, with their immaculate linens, the hostesses had chosen low bowls of pompon dahlias in a variety of delicate pastel colors. The guests were seated informally, each one finding at her place, a dainty colonial maid to serve as a means of scoring her success in the bridge contest which followed. Miss Marian Stanley, daughter of Mrs. Stanley, Miss Josephine Roy and her sister, Mrs. Ray Auner, nieces of Mrs. Neale, served the enjoyable luncheon menu, while other assistance was rendered the hostess quartet by Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, who checked the arrival of the guests.

There were fifteen tables required for the bridge session in which Mrs. Walter N. Brink scored high, receiving the attractive powder cream and sugar set chosen for first prize. Second prize of a pretty ramekin set, was presented Mrs. Clarence A. Gustlin, while third prize of dainty linen, went to Mrs. E. E. Keech.

The four hostesses will present the second of the two hospitable affairs on Saturday, when an equally large group of guests were to be entertained in the Neale home.

Hostess Trio Gave Pretty Party For Mrs. Rogers

A pretty party of yesterday was that honoring Mrs. R. J. Rogers of West Third street, given in the home of Mrs. G. H. Dobson, 1069 West Fifth street, with Mrs. W. W. Boggs of Whittier and Mrs. C. W. Hedges of this city as co-hostesses. Artificial blossoms in hanging baskets provided a charming setting for the affair.

Various games occupied the afternoon hours, with Mrs. Tom Mahan scoring high in a guessing contest. Bunko followed, and Mrs. L. W. Lockwood of Whittier won first prize, while Mrs. Tom Clift was consoling. After gifts were presented to prize winners, Mrs. Rogers, the honoree, was presented with a lovely selection of gifts. Refreshments served on a small table covered with dainty luncheon cloths concluded the pleasant afternoon.

Those present other than the honoree, Mrs. Rogers, and the hostesses, Mrs. Dobson, Mrs. W. W. Boggs and Mrs. C. W. Boggs, were Mesdames C. E. Rossier, Tom Mahan, R. C. Clem, W. O. Mathews, J. J. Kerby, Tom Clift, and Theodore Catherman of this city, Mrs. L. W. Lockwood and Mrs. Grace Shea of Whittier.

Alpha Rho Tau Party To Be Given Tonight

"At the Sign of the Lanterns, 216 South Parton Street," is the sole and mysterious clue offered members and guests of Alpha Rho Tau, Santa Ana junior college art club, for their anticipated studio rush party to be held tonight.

Effective decorations in modernistic design and Greenwich Village effect, are to be the keynote of the evening, and are in charge of Miss Maybelle Ball, who has secured some clever modernistic paintings for the affair.

An unusual program is promised by Everett Idler and the intriguing announcement that a well known dancer is to be on the program is furthering interest in the party. Miss Geraldine Cole is to take charge of the refreshments and Miss Louise Wallace is head chairman for the whole affair.

Auxiliary Completes Plans For Benefit Party Next Week

Final arrangements for a public card party to be given Wednesday evening, October 15, in the Legion hall at 8 o'clock were completed at the meeting of the Jack Fisher auxiliary, D. A. V., held last night. Bridge will be the game of the evening, with a choice of either pivoting or progressing.

Attractive prizes will be in order, and the evening will be concluded by refreshments. Anyone interested will please get in touch with the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Harry S. Pickard.

Arrangements of the affair are in charge of Mrs. Carl E. Burns, and her committee include Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. Charles Spurrier, Mrs. L. R. Pollins, Mrs. Lewis Riehl and Mrs. Harry D. Edwards.

New Officers Elected At Phi Zeta Meeting Last Night

Mrs. Pearl Hyde was elected as president of the Phi Zeta sorority last evening at a special meeting held at the home of Miss Juanita Ahern, Tustin. She will fill the position left by Margherita Marsden, and Miss Juanita Ahern was elected treasurer in the stead of Miss Katherine Kirven who is attending college.

A social time followed the business session, and refreshments concluded the interesting events. Those present other than Miss Ahern, the hostess, were the Misses Georgia Bell Walton, Mollie Mosher, Lizzetta Phillips, Oniska Orindoff, Dorothy Mayhew, Katherine Kilbourne, Margaret Rust, Maxine Bright and Doris Garfield.

"AN ESSAY ON MEN"

"A man is an animal that has one head, two feet, two hands, but never more than one collar button or one idea at a time."

"Like cigars, men are all made of the same material, the only difference is that some are better disguised than others. Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes—husbands, bachelors and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a mass of obstinacy entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties, prizes, surprises and consolation prizes."

"Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest plastics known to civilization. It requires science, common sense, faith and charity—especially charity. It is a psychological marvel what a soft, fluffy, tender, violet-scented little thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, tobacco and bayrum scented thing like a man. If you flatter a man it frightens him to death and if you don't you bore him to death. "If you permit him to make love to you he gets tired of you in the beginning. If you are of the clinging vine type he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are a modern, advanced and independent woman he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly he longs for a bright mate, and if you are brilliant and intelligent he longs for a playmate."

Either way, anyway, we are damned, so "toots the odds!" Let's go on having our own way and keep fooling the poor dear into thinking he decided what that way had to be. Just the same, men are a great institution."

St. Ann's Party Was Successful Event

St. Ann's parish hall was aglow with hospitality last evening when members of the Altar society presided at a benefit affair which was attended by quite a large crowd. Bridge and "500" were played, and in the latter game Mrs. M. J. Newbury and Miss Gladys McDonald scored first and second high for women and Vincent Borchard and Adolf Kneip upheld honors for men. In the bridge sessions Mrs. J. G. Campbell and Jo Hadley held high scores and Mary Hallicy and J. G. Campbell held second high. Mrs. Campbell also won the grand prize of the evening. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Mrs. Antonie Borchard and Mrs. James Columbi were in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Rutherford Was Speaker at Ebell Meeting

Pom-pom dahlias in varying tints of yellow formed a floral setting for the meeting of the Second Household Economics section of Ebell society held in the clubhouse yesterday afternoon when members gathered for their first session this year. Officers of the section were hostesses, and included Mrs. Ralph Smedley as leader, Mrs. Earl Morrow, Mrs. Roy H. Hall and Mrs. J. B. Clark.

Following a short business meeting Mrs. Susan Rutherford gave a most delightful account of her recent world tour, stressing foods and drinks of the various countries.

Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. M. M. Holmes and Mrs. George Briggs were guests of the day.

Members present, other than the hostesses, Mrs. Smedley, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Clark, were Mesdames James Allen, Reeves Ayilmore, Charles Brown, Elmer Burns, Jo Burke, C. V. ## "3 FRENCH GIRLS" CLOSE HERE TODAY

Reginald Denny and Fifi Dorsay head a dazzling cast in "Three French Girls," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's captivating farce of life in Gay Paree, will close at the Fox West Coast theater today.

The action centers about the fun-loving nephew of a British earl, played by Denny, who goes to Paris for a good time and finds it in the company of two American ex-doughboys and three charming mademoiselles. Complications occur when the nephew brings the girls to his uncle's home in the attempt to interest his rich relative in backing a modestly shop. All would have gone well had not the uncle fallen in love with the very girl whom the nephew had picked out for himself. But all the difficulties are ironed out in the end in a rollicking manner.

Cliff Edwards and Edward Brophy are reported to be nothing less than "a scream" as the two doughboys who want to see what Paris is like without M. P.'s; George Grossmith and Peter Gawthorne are said to be equally funny as the befuddled earl and his cockney butler respectively, while the remaining members of the girl trio, Yola d'Avril and Sandra Ravel, add their drooleries to the lot.

NEW BUDDY ROGERS' FILM AT BROADWAY

Rum-smuggling villains; smug, grumbling dowagers; heavy lovin' and heavy laughin'—these are some of the features of "Heads Up," the rollicking romance with music which the management of the Fox Broadway theater has in store for patrons beginning today.

Charles Rogers, who made such great musical achievements out of "Close Harmony" and "Safety in Numbers" is seen in the leading role of "Heads Up" as the youthful graduate of the Coast Guard academy who is sent aboard a private yacht to get the goods on its captain who is suspected of dealings with rum-runners at sea.

Aboard the vessel Rogers gets better acquainted with Margaret Breen, daughter of its owner. He had met Margaret, a very comely debutante, at the graduation exercises of his academy and had fallen for her in a big way.

There are a number of thrilling episodes—and a number of hilarious ones as well, before the picture reaches its serene haven of a lovers' embrace.

The comedy support is headed by Helen Kane, the "boop-boop-a-dee" girl herself, and Victor Moore, the Broadway musical comedy veteran

'MONTANA SKIES' AT WALKER-STATE NOW

All Kenneth Harlan does in his first talking picture role is ride, ride, ride. In "Under Montana Skies," Tiffany's all musical, all-talking feature, Harlan, hero of many western features, chases a stagecoach fifty percent of the time.

By his own confession, he has never had a role involving as much physical exercise.

To give away the plot would be folly, but Harlan, in a story which is not a western but a film opera, does more riding than any cowboy in any western picture.

"Under Montana Skies," with Dorothy Gulliver, Slim Summerville and others in support of Harlan, is the feature showing tonight at Walker's State.

SPECIAL STAGE SHOW COMING ON MONDAY

As an extra added attraction, the Fox West Coast theater will offer Eddie's Adver show next Monday night, according to an announcement made today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager. Eddie's Adver show will afford the entire family a beneficial, as well as an amusing time. Many gifts are to be distributed from the stage and there will be general hilarity and fun-making. There is no advance in the price for the performance which will be shown in conjunction with Al Jolson's latest picture, "Big Boy."

Mickey Mouse to Stage Birthday Party Tomorrow

"Grandma's Boy," one of the funniest comedies ever made by Harold Lloyd, will be the chief attraction for the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Mickey Mouse club, to be held at the Fox West Coast theater tomorrow at noon.

Tomorrow is Mickey Mouse's second birthday, and more than 600 Santa Ana children are expected to attend birthday celebration to be held in honor of it at the theater. Cook's bakery has furnished a huge birthday cake for the occasion and each child who attends will be given a slice of cake, it was announced.

Several other interesting events are to take place at the birthday party, according to Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager here.

BREA

BREA, Oct. 10.—W. J. Wilson and his parents have moved into the new home recently completed for Mr. Wilson at 325 South Madrona street. They had resided for some time on South Orange street.

Mrs. M. R. Messer, of South Walnut street, is enjoying a visit from her mother, a resident of the middle west.

The Rev. and Mrs. Remfry Hunt of the Brea Christian church are leaving this week for Washington, D. C., honorary delegates to the International Christian church convention being held in the national capital. While east the pastor and his wife will visit at other points with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ross visited Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hampton in Orange. The Hamptons were residents of Brea for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Withrow have in their home the mother of Mrs. Roy Nettle of Olinda, who is quite ill there. Mrs. Nettle is herself recovering from an illness.

Mrs. Carson Rodgers and Mrs. Claude Sparks visited in Los Angeles one day, calling on old friends. Among others they saw Mrs. Rosalie Williams, who is now employed in the millinery department of a Los Angeles store.

Jay C. Sexton, formerly president of the First National bank of Brea, was a visitor in Brea this week. Mr. and Mrs. Sexton are now residents of Redlands.

Mrs. Ivor Anderson of Costa Mesa and Mrs. Williams Andres of Irvine, visited briefly yesterday with Mrs. Stella Keene. They were accompanied by Mrs. Box, their mother.

Mrs. Jay Taylor, who underwent an emergency operation at the Fullerton General hospital Saturday night, is reported as showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Shipley and two daughters have returned to Brea from Texas, where they went some months ago to engage in the grocery business. Mr. Shipley formerly was a partner with W. J. Cox in the grocery business here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shores and Mrs. Bernice Pickering, their daughter, who have been visiting in the northern part of the state, are expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis have returned to Brea after a brief residence in La Habra. They are again located on South Orange street, this time in a different location. They are living in the Wilson property, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs.

Roy Eubank.

Little Miss Phyllis Luenzenger, daughter of J. L. "Barney" Luenzenger, celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary at her present home with Mrs. Greta Lackey. Phyllis had the customary cake and pretty gifts.

Members of the Brea council of the Y. W. C. A. of Northern Orange county met Tuesday at the home of its chairman, Mrs. W. W. Hay, Stewart Station. This being the first of the resumed meetings for this season, much time was taken up in outlining a plan of work for the year.

Mr. Robert M. Ross and Mrs. Earl Pendleton were named as new members of the council, taking the places of Mrs. A. O. Andrew and Mrs. Stella Keene, resigned.

Mrs. Hay served refreshments during the afternoon. Miss Ethel Mumford, secretary for the northern county district, led the meeting.

Nearly 100 were served at the dinner given by the ways and means committee of the Brea Woman's club in the club dining room last night. Mrs. G. C. Polckmer was chairman of the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Woodruff, following the dinner given by the Woman's club last night, entertained a group of friends at their home on West Cedar street. Bridge was played, three tables being engaged.

Brea friends of Mrs. Josephine O'Melveny this week received letters from her in her present home, Calgary, Canada. With Mr. O'Melveny she had just returned from an extensive trip into the states and wrote of having seen E. E. "Andy" Anderson at Cody, Wyo. Mrs. O'Melveny reported Calgary had had the first snow of the season.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Oct. 10.—Chas. McBride, Charles Brewster and Ted Lewis will spend the week end deer hunting at Idyllwild.

Charles Kinsler and Charles Delcour have returned from a deer hunt near Hemet, where they got a deer. They expect to return to that region this weekend for another buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shannon, of Los Angeles, were guests Tuesday evening at a venison dinner at the U. R. Phillips home. Mr. Shannon is a retired boxer.

H. Riley has opened the Sweet shop, in the west side of the theater building in preparation for the opening of the Garden theater next week, which is now undergoing extensive improvements by its new owner, F. Morehead.

BARBER CITY

BARBER CITY, Oct. 10.—The monthly club dinner which is sponsored by the Barber City Woman's club was held Thursday evening.

Members of the Barber City Woman's club met for an evening to work on articles designed for the club bazaar which is being arranged for.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winslow and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stokes had as Sunday guests Mrs. Winslow's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fitzgerald, of Glendale, who came for a day with their relatives, bringing with them a large venison roast, a gift from friends who had just returned from a successful hunt. The three couples enjoyed the dinner at the Stokes home.

Good Foods Essential to Children
Safeguarding the physical and mental growth of boys and girls is largely a matter of proper nutrition in the opinion of leading child health specialists throughout the country.

And by proper nutrition is meant not only a sufficient quantity of food, but primarily food of absolute wholesomeness. Despite loving care, mothers may at times (quite unknowingly) provide their youngsters with food not sufficiently nourishing, or possibly even of such questionable character as to affect the health of their loved ones.

However, it is pointed out, adanger lurks in many places; in meats of doubtful origin and quality, in canned goods of questionable age and quality, in packages or bulk goods of low grade possibly carelessly handled, or even fresh fruits and vegetables, where the factors of origin, handling and perishability count so greatly.

Officials of the Piggy Wiggly system point out that growing children, to be at their best mentally and physically at all times, must have food of absolutely unquestioned wholesomeness. Foods that older people may often eat with impunity can actually retard the progress of the growing child.

Noting that it is a matter of public knowledge that proper foods are requisite to health, the stores system yet points out that often the public assumes all foods to be of approximately the same grade and purity, no matter where purchased or at what price.

Hence Piggy Wiggly officials take pride in pointing out that parents will find in their nearest store foods of the very high quality and utmost purity—nourishing foods of unquestioned wholesomeness.

The stores system emphasizes the fact that its outlets carry a large assortment of nationally advertised brands of canned and packaged goods, and that the meats sold at its markets are of the utmost quality and purity. Too, their fresh fruits and vegetables are said to be selected with the greatest of care from the best to be had on the market—often from truck gardens or orchards under contract with them.

MEAT LOAF

1/2 lb. pork.
1/2 lb. veal.
1 lb. beef.
1 cup Carnation wheat.
1/2 onion, finely minced.
2/3 cup milk (bottled or evaporated).

1 egg, slightly beaten.
1 1/2 tsp. salt.
Few grains pepper.
4 thin slices bacon.

Put meat through food chopper, mix and add ingredients in order given, excepting the bacon. Shape in a loaf; put in a pan and lay slices of bacon across the top of the loaf. Place in a hot oven (425 F.). After 15 minutes reduce the heat to 300 F.—a slow oven. Bake 1 1/2 hours, basting frequently. Garnish with parsley. Serves 6.

RAISIN AND WHEAT PUDDING

3 cups milk (bottled or evaporated).
1 tsp. salt.
2 cups Carnation wheat.
1 cup raisins.
2 eggs.
1/2 cup sugar.
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract.
1/2 tsp. orange extract.

Scald the milk in a double boiler; when it is hot stir in the salt and wheat flakes gradually. Add raisins, cover and continue cooking for 15 minutes. Beat eggs, add sugar, flavoring and cooked mixture. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake about 30 minutes in a slow (300 F.) oven. Serves 8.

* When evaporated milk is used, take half the amount of milk specified and dilute with an equal volume of water.

BUTTERSCOTCH WHEAT DROP COOKIES

1/2 cup shortening.
1 cup brown sugar.
1 egg.
1 1/2 cups pastry flour.
2 tsp. baking powder.
1/2 tsp. salt.
1 cup coconut.
2/3 cup milk.
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract.
1/2 tsp. lemon extract.
1 1/2 cups Carnation wheat.
1/2 cups nut meats.

Cream the shortening; add sugar gradually. Add the well beaten egg and beat thoroughly. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the milk. Add remaining ingredients, and drop from the tip of a spoon on a greased pan. Bake in a hot (500 F.) oven. Makes three dozen cookies.

MACAROONS

3 egg whites.
1 cup sugar.
1 tsp. cornstarch.
1/4 tsp. salt.
1 1/4 cups Carnation wheat.
1 1/4 cups coconut.
Beat egg whites until stiff; add sugar, cornstarch, and salt, which have been blended together. Cook 8 to 10 minutes, without stirring, in a double boiler (over boiling water). Add Wheat Flakes and coconut, and drop from the tip of a spoon on a greased pan. Bake in a slow (300 F.) oven. Makes 30 macaroons.

LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 10.—Dr. Margaret H. Bigby, child specialist of Whittier, accompanied by her secretary, Miss Agnes Lalancie, and Miss Elizabeth Brown, of Downey, spent the week-end at her home in South Laguna. Dr. Bigby is having various improvements installed here which include a concrete walk surrounding her house, an outside grill with table and seats, flagged with grass.

Paul Lipscomb's week end guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swartz, of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kronnick, of Los Angeles, who passed the week end at their Laguna Beach home, had with them Frank H. Brown and son, Eugene, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ethel K. Dillon, of Laguna Beach, has just returned from a four months' tour of Europe and is now in Lincoln, Mo., for a visit of two weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. L. Rhodes, following which she will return here.

Harold Gee, of Toronto, Canada, who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gee, at Stony Nook apartments, has returned to his home. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hoberlin, Mrs. Grace Dugal and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, of Los Angeles, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Gee.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Valer and son, Richard, of Glendale, were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Chandler, of Nyes place, last week. The Rev. Dr. Samuel Evans, Episcopal prelate, formerly of Portland, Ore., was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Krauth of 184 Nyes place. Dr. Evans has since accepted a charge in New Jersey.

L. F. "Doc" Mallow left Tuesday for Texas, to be gone for three weeks on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bernard telephoned their son, William Bernard, Monday, asking him to meet them at El Centro. The parents are from Kansas City and expect to spend the winter here.

The first musical tea of the Parent-Teacher year will be given October 15, at the Josephine Hills studio, where they were held last year. Frank W. Cuprien will play a piano solo and Mrs. Loretta Chilton will sing. Georgia Bingham will give a reading.

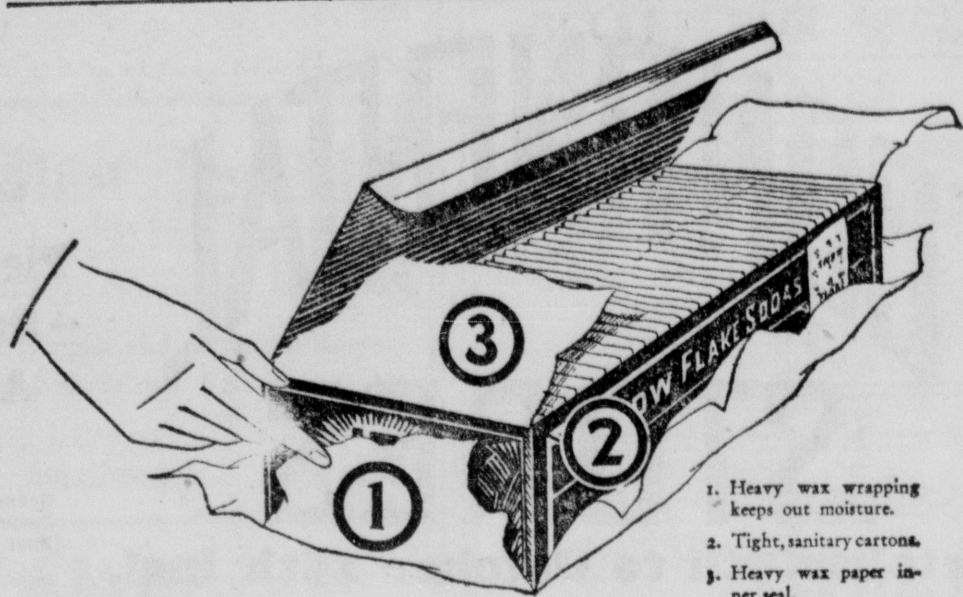

The Laguna Beach Art association will hold a membership meeting Monday evening. William W. Riddell is president of the association.

Thomas Harper has sold his brick studio to Fred Sidebottom, Anaheim rancher, who will use it as a week end and summer home. Mr. Harper sold the house on the adjoining lot to an Imperial valley man.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Oct. 10.—L. Crowder, of Los Angeles, has rented the Sunset Tamarine Inn at 1350 State highway from C. B. Thorpe, of Pasadena. Mr. Crowder will specialize in fish dinners.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shesley, of Park avenue, entertained the following guests Wednesday night at a duck dinner: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Earl, Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen and Mrs. Shesley's brother, Ernest Giesler and wife, of Huntington Beach.

HOLLY SUGAR

Is Ideal for Canning and Preserving

"Cane and Beet Sugar.—In numerous tests made by the Fruit Products Laboratory, beet sugar was found to give results equal to those of cane sugar. The prejudice against beet sugar is no longer warranted. It is identical chemically with cane sugar. Beet sugar is equally as good as cane sugar for jellies and preserves and is used by many canners and preservers."—(Extract from Circular 276 on Home Canning, of the U. of C. College of Agriculture, Berkeley, California.)

SEALS TAUGHT TO SWIM SAYS NOTED EXPERT

SEATTLE, Wn., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Young seals have to be taught to swim, they don't take to the water like ducks or fish.

Dr. George Haley, professor of biology at St. Ignace college, San Francisco, brought that information with him when he returned here after a tour of the Pribiloff Islands, where a federal survey showed 900,000 seals this summer.

"A young seal thrown in the water will drown," Dr. Haley said. "They must be taught to swim, taking it by degrees at their mother's sides."

The seal population on the islands has been steadily increasing since the United States, Great Britain and Japan reached an agreement toward the protection of seals foraging off the islands, he reported. The rookeries will eventually reach their maximum population of 4,000,000, he believes.

Dr. Haley returned here on the federal boat Penguin, which carried $1,000,000 worth of seal skins consigned to a St. Louis fur company. The United States receives a percentage of the profits and gives 10 per cent to Great Britain and 5 per cent to Japan as part of the protective agreement.

Since the three nations agreed to protect the seals against wanton hunters, the population of the islands 5 per cent to Japan as part of about 7 per cent annually, Dr. Haley reported.

Seals spend their winters off the coasts of Washington and Oregon, returning to the Pribiloff Islands during the summer.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 10.—An executive board meeting of the officers of the Wintersburg Methodist church held Tuesday evening, resulted in the making of plans for the opening of "Church night" service, which is to open the evening of October 16, and will continue for each Thursday evening for the following six weeks. The program is much the same as a teachers' training class but there are to be three divisions and all ages are cordially welcome to attend.

Mrs. E. M. Fox, the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Matson are the teachers.

ers, Mrs. Fox to teach upon the subject of "Christ at the Round Table;" Mr. Matson, "The Awakening World," while Mrs. Matson will take up "How to Teach Religion."

The school evening will have as a special feature each week a pot luck dinner at 6 o'clock, to be held in the church hall with the classes following immediately.

The Rev. J. Scott Willmarth and members of their family from Pasadena were in Wintersburg Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Willmarth, who for a number of years was local pastor, occupying the pulpit for the morning service.

The Rev. and Mrs. Willmarth were guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pratt, while Gardner Willmarth, Elizabeth and James Willmarth were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John Murdy. Gardner Willmarth, who attends the College of the Pacific at Stockton, was spending the week end at home, he having played on the college team which on Saturday played Pomona college. He was returning Sunday evening to Stockton.

The Woman's Home Missionary society, which was to have held its regular meeting this week, postponed the meeting until next Tuesday afternoon on account of the W. C. T. U. convention in progress in Santa Ana.

Mrs. J. R. Gary will be the program leader at Tuesday's meeting and Mrs. John Murdy will lead the devotionals. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. F. Slater.

The funeral of John Anderson, whose death occurred at the county hospital, was held from the Dixon parlors at Huntington Beach with the Rev. J. M. Barnhart, pastor of the First Methodist church of Huntington Beach, officiating and interment followed in the Huntington Beach cemetery.

Mr. Anderson, who had been a local resident for many years, had been ill for a long time and some weeks ago had a major operation performed. He had been home from the hospital but a short time when he again became ill, necessitating him again going to a hospital, living but two days.

Mr. Anderson is survived by one son, William R. Anderson, with whom he made his home, and two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Goehard, of this place, and Mrs. George Morse, of Huntington Beach, and a number of nephews and nieces. The deceased was a native of this state and spent his entire life here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McIntosh entertained a group of friends in their home with the arrival of Mrs. P. A. Blakeley and daughters, Caroline and Beatrice, of San Bernardino, and a granddaughter, Marilyn and Mrs. Alma Fowler, of Highland.

Mrs. T. J. Porter is entertaining as her guests this week Mrs. Alice Parkhurst and daughter, Mrs. Thelma Bunkerson of Pasadena. Mrs. Parkhurst and Mrs. Porter were schoolmates in girlhood days.

A farewell family dinner party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pryor, honoring Mrs. Emma Pryor, the mother, who left this week for a vacation trip to Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

As for a visit with relatives following a 35 years absence, Mrs. Pryor has five brothers located in those states and expects to remain about two or three months. The relatives who gathered in the Earl Pryor home for the farewell included Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wettlin and daughter, Miss Emma Wettlin, and son, David Jr. of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pryor, of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waffle, of Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pryor, and sons, Dean and John Pryor, and Kennet Patrick, of Huntington Beach, who was a guest of the Pryor brothers.

George Fabin, of El Toro, is spending the week with his aunt, Mrs. Ellen Goehard, having been brought to her home about 2 o'clock Monday morning following an automobile accident in which he was injured on the county line bridge into Long Beach when his car crashed the center of the bridge when the front wheel of his car locked as he turned into the bridge. One knee was quite badly injured and an X-ray was taken Wednesday to determine the extent of the injury. He is suffering from a deep gash on the lower jaw, and from various cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Goble of Anaheim, sister of Mrs. R. L. Thiebaud, has been spending several days in the Thiebaud home.

Mrs. Harriette Dowty, who has been spending several months in her old home in Kansas, where she has many relatives, will not return home until after Thanksgiving, she writes, as she is now thoroughly enjoying herself since climatic conditions have improved.

Mrs. Annie Johnson, of Santa Ana, spent Wednesday as the guest of Mrs. E. R. Bradbury.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Finlayson had as visitors in their home, Mrs. Finlayson's brother, A. C. Keller, and wife, of San Bernardino. Mr. Keller came here from Los Angeles, where he had been to the Santa Fe hospital for the regular medical examination which an injury sustained several years ago makes necessary. Mr. Keller's neck was broken in an accident and he is forced to wear a high steel collar all of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sowers and son are now at Durango, Colo., the former Sowers home, they having left here last Saturday night to motor through to visit relatives.

Mrs. P. A. McKenzie and Mrs. G. W. Chamberland were Long Beach visitors Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Littell, of Santa Ana, were recent visitors in the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blaylock and family.

Miss Julienne Blaylock was a week end visitor in Los Angeles. The Rev. K. Kikuchi, pastor of the Wintersburg Presbyterian church, is leaving Saturday morning with his family for Imperial valley to spend the week end. Mr. Kikuchi will preach Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church at Brawley and in the evening at El Centro.

Dean Pryor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pryor of this place has received the highest honors possible in the Huntington Beach high school, being elected as president of the honor society of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins entertained as dinner guests, the Ryan sisters of the Four Square Gospel church in Huntington Beach, Dawn Treece also joining the party at dinner. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins and their guests motored to Long Beach.

Members of the M. C. Hazard, J. O. Irwin, W. P. Treece, Robert Jenkins, Charles Hurt and Goehard families attended the Mooseheart card party at Antler's hall Wednesday evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Matson entertained as guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner and two children, Betty Ruth and Warren, of Baldwin Park, and Mrs. Matson's father, the Rev. A. D. Wagner, of Alhambra.

Mrs. Lilly Shafer Moore accompanied her daughter, Mrs. James Haptonstall, and daughter, Arline, to Olay, San Diego county, Wednesday to visit in their home. Mrs. Haptonstall and daughter had been spending several days with Mrs. Moore.

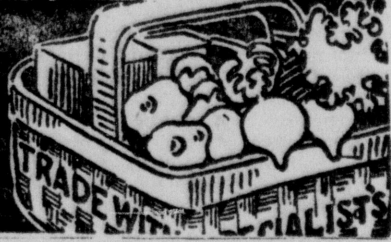

Miss Grace Eller, cousin of Mrs. J. W. McIntosh, and Bert Young, of Pasadena, were recent visitors in the McIntosh home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McIntosh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Preston and family, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Cameron and family have been attending the Taylor evangelistic services all week at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. R. L. Thiebaud and Mrs. George Nichols attended the W. C. T. U. convention in Santa because he was always tired

IN EVERY WALK of life you meet the "Drowsy Bills" ... men and women who are losing out because they are always tired. They try hard enough ... but most often the poisons from constipation sap energy and strength—and bring illness, defeat and old age prematurely.

What a pity, when eating a delicious cereal could prevent it all! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation! Two tablespoons daily—at every meal, in severe cases.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings relief in a natural, healthful way, by sweeping the intestines of all poisonous wastes.

Eaten regularly, it helps keep the system healthfully clean. Isn't this far better than taking pills and drugs that are often habit-forming and may become ineffective?

ALL-BRAN also adds iron to the blood. It is a delicious cereal with milk or cream. Use it in cooking too. Recipes on the package. At your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Said Scouty, "Tell us 'bout your farm." The kindly man just waved his arm to indicate the land he owned, and said, "Well, right nearby we have a barn where we milk cows, and too, a field where fat sheep browse. And just behind the barn's a sight that's pleasing to the eye."

"Oh, let's go there and look," said one. And off the bunch went, on the run. They scampered 'round behind the barn and Scouty shouted, "Geel!" The others exclaimed, "Ah," and "Oh," 'cause what they saw was quite a show. It was a little baby calf, as cute as it could be.

Just then a farm hand came in view. Said Clowny, "What's he going to do?" The man replied, "He'll feed the calf. It is its dinner time. If you've never seen this stunt before, I'll bet that it will make you roar. To get a real good view, up on the fence you'd better climb."

The Tynmites promptly did as told.

The farm hand walked right up, real bold, and grabbed the wee calf 'round the neck and held him good and tight. Some milk and oil was shortly poured right down its throat. The Tynmites roared. The way the calf enjoyed it was an interesting sight.

Then came the sound of squeaky wheels. Each Tynmite took to his heels and scampered down a winding road to meet a load of hay. The hay man cried, "Hello, there, boys. My, don't these wheels make lots of noise. I guess they're kinda rusty and that's why they squeak that way."

The Tynmites were surprised to see the hay piled high as high could stack, like they had seen before. Instead, in cloth the hay was wrapped and on the big hay wagon strapped. Said Scouty, "It's done that way so's to carry that much more."

(The Tynmites drink from a fine fountain in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par, for example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

BEAR TO DOWN—This is a rather difficult par five hole, and it is quite necessary to BEAR DOWN a bit in order to shoot par. Tomorrow: Solution of today's puzzle.

Here is our solution of Thursday's puzzle: REAL, MEAL, MELL, MALL, MALE, MACE, LACE.

REALTOR WHO INVENTED BABY GOLF RETIRES

Association of Miniature Golf Courses, starting October 29.

The Fairland course here is about four times as large as any of its 24,999 brothers and is many times as hard to play. The greens are bigger, the hazards more difficult. The course is laid around mountain boulders on ground made historic by Civil war battles. The holes are from 26 to 50 feet long. Brownies and gnomes and other story-book figures are placed about the course for ornamental purposes.

Opened in 1928, it has been improved continually. Today, Carter estimates its cost at $40,000.

The story behind this course is the story of the birth of miniature golf, now played by millions.

Back in 1928, Carter was president of the Fairland Inn, a real estate development company situated on Lookout Mountain. He had under way a big golf course that was about half finished. Worrying with this enterprise one day, he conceived the idea of establishing a clock golf course.

"I started building one of the putting greens around the many boulders and making hazards and tunnels," he explains. "Everybody laughed and scoffed at the idea."

"My idea was to provide something to do for the guests who didn't want to play big golf or dance. Some of my friends jokingly inquired if I was building a playground for children."

But Carter kept at it. He stretched his baby course to 18 holes. Almost before he knew it, everybody around the hotel was playing.

The fame spread and inquiries about the cost of a baby golf course began to drift in from other cities. Carter was in the business before he knew it.

A friend from Atlanta bought one for $2000, installed it and made his money back in three weeks.

Carter installed one for his father, J. I. Carter, to amuse guests at the nearby Lookout Mountain hotel. The first day money was taken in on the golf course was the hotel's exclusive dining room.

The craze spread to Florida, a miniature course being erected at the Royal Palm hotel, Miami. It soon developed that people in Florida liked to putt through hollow logs and sewer pipes and around rocks as well as those in Tennessee.

Realizing that he had something that was more than just a fad, Carter wired back to his associates in Chattanooga to establish a factory at once and begin the manufacture of miniature golf courses.

"Since then," says Carter, "I've been in a whirlwind."

A few weeks ago, while returning from one of the company's branch factories in Rochester, Pa., Carter met Warren T. Godfrey, a bond expert who had been instrumental in getting the Lookout Mountain hotel bonds guaranteed.

"How are you getting along?" asked Godfrey.

"I'm making over $1000 a day in royalties," Carter replied.

"If you handled things right you'd be making 10 times that," Godfrey observed.

"I told Godfrey," says Carter, "that I didn't want to be burdened too much and I had just been talking about consolidating all the different plants, since I had been offered about $1,000,000 worth of stock in such a consolidation."

Godfrey then asked Carter if he wanted to sell out. Carter dickered and finally offered the trade mark, manufacturing plan and patents

Confederacy Group Held Interesting Meeting

Side lights of the recent state convention were featured yesterday at the meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy held in the home of Mrs. Alice Turner, 108 East Eleventh street, with Mrs. Lavenia Mayfield, Mrs. Mamie Files and Mrs. E. A. Clark assisting. Mrs. Turner as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Victor Montgomery and Miss Gertrude Montgomery attended the annual state affair, and were privileged to report that Mrs. Ray Stedman, one of their number, was elected as state custodian of flags.

Miss Gertrude Montgomery, president of the local group, was in charge of the session. The ways and means committee reported plans for raising money for a scholarship fund, to be provided for a worthy white girl or boy in the "John Brown School of Arkansas" district. Two sums of money were given the order yesterday, one by Mrs. John Mitchell of Little Rock, Ark., a guest of the day, and the other by Mrs. Mamie Wahl.

A letter from Mrs. Lela Kennedy, who is in Phoenix, Ariz., was read, and as she was secretary of the organization, Mrs. B. E. Tarver was elected to fill her position. It was voted to subscribe $5 monthly to Dixie Manor, home for Confederate veterans, located in San Gabriel.

A program in charge of Mrs. T. J. Haughton followed the business session, and refreshments concluded the pleasant affair.

Members of the Klean Kut club enjoyed a most delectable luncheon yesterday afternoon when they were entertained with Mrs. A. W. Sanford as hostess in her home at 1141 South Van Ness avenue. Brilliant yellow poppies decorated the tables, and zinnias and other fall flowers were used in profusion throughout the rooms.

In the bridge games of the afternoon Mrs. O. F. Turner scored high and Mrs. R. A. Couch, second high. Members present, other than the hostess, were Mesdames O. E. Turner, R. A. Couch, Roy Gowdy, Eugene Reiff, Lee Boyle, E. T. Read, J. L. McBride, John Turton and George J. Cocking, while Mrs. C. J. Bear and Mrs. W. V. Keyes were special guests.

Members of the Klean Kut club enjoyed another of their delightful sessions yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Eleanor Pickel was hostess in her home at 710 South Van Ness avenue. Red dahlias decked the rooms.

Bridge was the game of the day, and at the conclusion of the afternoon it was found that Mrs. Vada Pankey held high score and Mrs. Ella Mitchell, low. A delectable refreshment course concluded the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Jean Tremble was a guest of the day. Members present, other than the hostess, were Mesdames Leota Allen, Mattie Bower, Blanche Chandler, Laura Keseman, Edna Kingella, Ella Mitchell, Vada Pankey, Maude Swarthout, Ada Spencer and Nellie Young.

Mrs. R. C. Edwards Was Club Hostess

Mrs. R. C. Edwards was hostess to members of her bridge club last evening in her home at 2134 Greenleaf street. Asters and dahlias in pastel tints provided a floral setting for the affair.

Mrs. Jesse Elliott scored high in the diversion of the evening, and Mrs. V. L. Liggett, low. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present other than Mrs. Edwards were Mesdames Don Mottley, Clarence Laxton, Herbert Alteman, James Lewis, V. L. Liggett, James Elliott and O. F. Turner.

He was given the territory east of the Rocky Mountains and north of the Mason-Dixon line to market miniature courses. On each one shipped, he agreed to pay Carter $100 royalty.

"He shipped 1000 courses this year and has now gone into the indoor business," says Carter. "Before going into the deal, however, he asked me if there wasn't some kind of a trick in it. I told him there must be, but I couldn't find it. The courses cost $1000, we sell them for $2000 and then get around the corner and laugh about how easy we made the thousand. But the fool who buys makes his $1000 back in the first two weeks and after that all is gravy."

Carter was born in 1893 and married in 1915. "I haven't any children," he says, "but I have had been offered about $1,000,000 worth of stock in such a consolidation."

Godfrey then asked Carter if he wanted to sell out. Carter dickered and finally offered the trade mark, manufacturing plan and patents

Members of the Klean Kut club enjoyed another of their delightful sessions yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Eleanor Pickel was hostess in her home at 710 South Van Ness avenue. Red dahlias decked the rooms.

Bridge was the game of the day, and at the conclusion of the afternoon it was found that Mrs. Vada Pankey held high score and Mrs. Ella Mitchell, low. A delectable refreshment course concluded the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Jean Tremble was a guest of the day. Members present, other than the hostess, were Mesdames Leota Allen, Mattie Bower, Blanche Chandler, Laura Keseman, Edna Kingella, Ella Mitchell, Vada Pankey, Maude Swarthout, Ada Spencer and Nellie Young.

FITS ACTIONS TO BELIEFS

Last night Nathan Newby, president of the Church Federation of Los Angeles, delivered an address before the Women's Christian Temperance Union on the subject of: "Principle Above Party."

In the course of Mr. Newby's address, he declared himself unreservedly for the Eightteenth Amendment and the enforcement of the law, and urged that every man and woman who did not put principle above party on such an important matter as that, was aiding the enemies of good government. Mr. Newby related his own experience in carrying out these ideals.

He is a Democrat, but because of the attitude of Al Smith, he supported Hoover. Mr.
Newby went back to his native state of North Carolina and stumped the state for Hoover, among relatives and friends, whose partisanship was so severe that it was a personal hardship for him to take the stand. "But," Mr. Newby said, "the state went Democratic by 63,000 and carried for Hoover by 73,000." So he urged that he practiced what he preached, declared that conditions in California were reversed, and said:

"Carrying out those principles I shall vote for the Democratic candidate for Governor, and the Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor."

A man of Mr. Newby's type, who has himself been willing to do what he urges others to do, is worthy of consideration, and safe to follow. We can well imagine that some of the strong Republican partisan men were patting
Mr. Newby on the back in those strenuous days of the presidential campaign for his willingness to sacrifice his party for the sake of the moral and political principle in which he profoundly believed. It was a wholesome fight then; it was justified; it is always justified, and is justified today.

PAYING BACK IN DEBASED COIN

In 1916, 1917, and 1918 British citizens bought freely French internal bonds, based on a franc worth 19 cents in our money. These bonds have recently been called by the French government and paid for in francs which today have a value of less than four cents. Naturally, the British lenders are protesting, and they have succeeded in getting their government to make representations to the French government concerning the matter.

These bonds are not on a par with external bonds. External bonds stipulate that they shall be paid at a fixed rate in gold, and therefore are not affected by the debasing of the currency. Our own Liberty bonds were internal bonds, and had our government reduced the real value of the dollar after the war, as most of the European countries did, all purchasers of these bonds would have sacrificed the difference in value. Governments are not apt to be as honorable in dealing with their own people as they are with people of other countries. Therefore, when outside people invest in the internal securities of any country, they take the same risks as do the citizens of that country.

We sympathize with the holders of these French rentes, but we cannot see that they have any complaint to make, any more than have French holders of these same securities.
This is a risk which all investors take. Millions of German marks were bought in this country for a fraction of a cent per mark.
Those who bought deluded themselves in thinking that Germany would redeem them for the full value of the mark. There is just this difference between the buyers of the depreciated German marks and those who bought the French rentes. Those who bought German marks did so as a speculative venture. Those British citizens who bought the French securities did so out of sympathy for the cause of their ally. There may be a moral obligation on the part of the French government to pay back in the coin paid for them, but we cannot see that there is any legal or international obligation.

Kicking Back

The San Diego Union

Strange and sad it would be if so intelligent and useful a friend of man as the mule could count no man his friend when calumny thickens the air. No one need be surprised therefore that such a man—and a Missourian at that, to give him his full stature—comes forward to protest against the statement of an airplane company's representative that Missouri mules accounted for more deaths last year than by airplanes throughout the United States.

The Missourian craves to be shown, and no wonder. He arises to assert that "the statement has no foundation in fact" and appraises its percentage of untruth at ninety-nine. He refuses to let pass unchallenged this latest kick at the "much abused, misunderstood, patient, useful and grossly libeled mule." Though not absolutely sure of his statistics, he yet ventures to say that right here in the vicinity of San Diego more fatalities have been caused by airplanes than by mules in the whole state of Missouri last year or any other year.

Quite reasonably, furthermore, he points out that if the assertion were half true, then "it's a wonder that the army mule has not kicked the day-lights out of our army long ago." On the contrary, "the mule has helped win all our wars and if he has saved half as many lives of our soldiers in time of peace, he deserves a monument."

All of which sets humming a sympathetic chord in our own breast. Personally we have a deep and abiding respect for the mule. We respect his intelligence more than that of a horse, his dependability more than that of a gasoline launch, and his individuality more than that of many a fellow human. And that last quality—individuality —accounts for the myth that has grown up about him. A strong, admirable, steadfast and impervious individuality always has its detractors.

Heavy Summer Travel

Riverside Daily Press

Good results from the All-Year club's national tourist advertising campaigns are again in evidence.

In a check-up of our 1936 summer tourist travel, despite present subnormal business conditions so generally prevalent, the official figures for June, July and August show a 4.7 per cent increase over travel for the same months last year.

Anxious to get a slant on the caliber as well as quantity of these summer visitors, the All-Year club took a cross-sectional check of the automobile tourist who come and go during the course of an average day. Obviously it is impossible to inspect personally the more than 60,000 motorists who visited Southern California this summer. But leading statisticians admit that an adequate cross slant represents with fair accuracy the general results.

The count for this one day's test disclosed that 97.47 per cent of tourist cars examined were in excellent condition, 85.4 per cent were 1930 or 1920 models, and only 2.26 per cent were in a shabby condition. From this we may fairly assume that the bulk of such well-to-do motor travel was a direct consequence of the All-Year club's well-conceived and carefully planned advertising.

Many of these summer visitors were no doubt influenced by the census figures and the opportunities they forecast for profitable business investments in Southern California and all of them spent considerable sums here from which the whole of Southern California benefits.

One-Fourth For Autos in El Paso Family Budget

San Bernardino Sun

El Paso, Texas, finds that it is spending more for automobiles than for food. Of $50,000,000 expended in retail trade, one-fourth went for cars, gas, oil, tires and accessories, etc.

The food stores got 13 cents of the El Paso dollar, general merchandise accounted for 15 cents, furniture and household appliances 8 cents, lumber and other building materials 4 1/2 cents, drug stores 4 cents.

Chain stores, by the way, were found to be doing less than 10 per cent of the total retail business.

Economic-minded persons would like to hear from other communities along this line, especially their own community. Such a report gives every family a good chance to check up and see how it compares with the general system of expenditure.

AFFINITY

A scientist says that love and friendship are merely the result of the agreement of the chemicals composing the interested parties.
You doubtless suppose that you choose your own friends;

You tell yourself, now and again,
That your liking for Bilkins or Smithers depends

On your marvelous judgment of men.
You approve Judson's humor, or Rafferty's wit,

You are sure you will never forget 'em
And you often declare when a little bit lit,

"It was strong for those boys when I met 'em."
But the reason that you and your pals are so thick

Is just that your chemicals happen to click.

You think when a damsel comes into your life,
That you are her predestined man.

And that she was the girl who was meant for your wife
When the march of the ages began.

You say that you know at the very first glances
You exchanged as you passed by the way

That all of your previous tender romances
Were the fleeting affairs of a day.

But it's merely the clicking of chemical forces
That cuts down the annual crop of divorces.

It isn't the wisdom you boast of, dear sir,
It isn't the throb and the beat

Of your pulses that lead you to smile or demur
When a stranger you happen to meet.

Reactions are busy in breast and in brain
And atom is calling to atom,

And to fancy that YOU either love or disdain
Is what Cleero called an ERRATUM.

The emotion we speak of as love at first sight Means that's atoms and ions are clicking all right.

The Monster Penny-in-the-Slot MachineBy WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

What kept business going during the recent era of prosperity?
What lifted this country to the highest standard of living ever attained anywhere in the world?

There is but one answer for both questions: Increased consumption of goods did the trick.

How, then, can we consume more goods than we are consuming right now? Only by producing more. Even the economists agree on that.

According to the latest Einstein theories, to be sure, those things which appear to exist do not exist, and time flows backward. Tomorrow's joys have fled away; so let us hope that even at last, we shall be happy yesterday.

Still, it is hard to see how we can clothe ourselves in gowns or ride on bicycles which have not yet been made.

But we cannot keep on producing more gowns, or bicycles, or anything else, unless we can sell more.

In order to see what happens, imagine that all the men who employ workers and turn out goods have no way of distributing their products, except through a monster penny-in-the-slot machine.
Then the producers cannot employ more workers and make more goods, unless the people drop more pennies in the machine. There is no use cramming the machine with goods for which there is no outlet. Consumption regulates production.

That may sound too simple. Yet, in all essentials, that is precisely what happens in the complicated modern world of industry and finance. That is the chief trouble right now.
Factories are shut down and men are jobless, mainly because the Monster Penny-in-the-Slot Machine has not been clicking fast enough.

Right now, for the country as a whole, a penny spent is a penny earned; and a penny saved is a penny lost.

Sattidday afternoon me and Puds

Simkins and Shorty Judge was wawking out to the park, and Puds said G, look at that, would you, she thinks its raining.

Meaning some lady wawking in front of us with her umbrella up, and Shorty sed, Holey smokes, do you think she's crazy.

She must be, its no wheres even near raining, Shorty sed, and I sed,

It never even thawt of raining, G wizzickers she must be.

Meaning crazy, and Puds sed, Lets go up to her and tell her her umberella's up and see what she says.

Sure, lets find out just how crazy she is, I sed, and Shorty sed, G, we better not, she's libel to nock us down and everything, you cant tell what crazy people are libel to do.

Maybe she's just escaped from the crazy place, Puds sed, and I sed, Well G, if she did maybe we mite get a big reward if we take her back. Maybe she's harmless, I sed.

Sure, maybe she's just got a crazy habit of thinking its raining all a time, and maybe outside of that maybe she woulndt hert a fly,

Shorty sed.

Wich just then I had a sudden

just holding the umbrella up because she dont want any sun on her.

her? Shorty sed, and I sed, Maybe she's afraid it mite give her a sunstroke on the brane.

Well thats a crazy ideer, aint it?
Shorty sed, and Puds sed, Well lets ask her anyways, we mite as well find out.

Wich just then the lady went in a house and shut the door, Puds saying, Well anyways she closed the umbrella before she went in,

so maybe she aint crazy after all.
Wich maybe she wasent, only we'll probably never find out for sure.

Wich just then I had a sudden
ideer, saying, Well hay, maybe she's

just holding the umbrella up because she dont want any sun on her.

Why, what would the sun do to her? Shorty sed, and I sed, Maybe

she's afraid it mite give her a sunstroke on the brane.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

OUR POLITICAL PARTIES

If America is to move into the era of readjustment that lies ahead with maximum intelligence and efficiency, it must restudy all of the tools and techniques that its various leaderships have been using.

It must, among other things, subject its political parties to a searching re-examination.

Political parties are not organic parts of the political system devised by the framers of the Federal Constitution.

The Fathers, in fact, fought the idea of the party system. Washington contended that parties and party strife are destructive of the fundamental principles of free government, and Jefferson once said he would "rather go to hell than go to heaven by party."

Our political parties are extra-constitutional agencies which, if we take seriously the claims of their uncritical promoters, are supposed to serve three important purposes in our national life, viz.:

First, they are supposed to dramatize and to direct discussion of issues that are vital to the national well-being by presenting in each election season party platforms that reflect sincere and searching study of the living issues of the American social order.

Second, they are supposed to discover and to draft into public service men and women equipped by temperament and training for distinguished and disinterested public service.

Third, they are supposed to serve as organized groups that the people can hold responsible for the creative and courageous administration of government, rewarding or rebuking such groups as they succeed or fail in living up to these three reputed purposes.

These three objectives of party organization have not been realized.

The party system has confused rather than clarified the discussion of the issues that are most vital to the national well-being.

The party system has lowered rather than lifted the quality of political leadership.

The party system has bred a political type that gives more thought to the achievement of office than to the administration of office.

One of the major problems that America faces as it enters a period of readjustment is to determine the sort of political arrangements that will insure three imperative results, viz.:

First, the sustained study and sincere discussion of living issues, not simply vote-luring issues.

Second, the discovery and induction into power of men and women who will bring superior ability and sustained courage to the administration of government.

Third, the development of a political type that will not exhaust its ingenuity in the game of vote-getting and come barren to the responsibility of office.
